

$3600 VERDICT AGAINST B. & M.

Plaintiff Wins Accident Case —
Verdict for Defense Ordered in Case of Spooner vs. Morris

The jury in the case of John E. Spooner vs. Boston and Maine railroad returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $3600 at the opening of the superior court session this morning. The suit was brought by plaintiff to recover $10,000 for injuries alleged to have been received by him because of the neglect of agents of the defendant company. Upon hearing the verdict read, Judge Chase questioned the foreman concerning what the jury had determined upon as the approximate cause of the accident. The foreman's reply was to the effect that the jury had found the company negligent through its agent who failed to give proper warning to the plaintiff. The latter was injured, it was declared, when an engine of the company on which he was riding passed close to a retaining wall. The accident occurred near Ayer, J. D. Carney and W. J. Patton for plaintiff; Trull and Wier for defense.

Verdict For Defendant
In the $1000 suit of Margaret Spooner vs. Miss Anne Morris, Judge Chase ruled that the evidence submitted was not sufficient to warrant a case, and he directed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant. W. D. Regan for the plaintiff and J. J. Kerwin and J. C. Rellly for defendant.

ROYAL WEDDING IN LONDON TODAY

Prince Arthur of Connaught Weds Princess Alexandria

Married in the Ancient Chapel of St. James
Palace

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Prince Arthur of Connaught, son of the governor-general of Canada and Princess Alexandria, Duchess of Fife, eldest daughter of the widow Princess Royal Louise, were married today in the ancient chapel of St. James' palace, where both of them had been baptized.

There was room for less than 200 in the simple, though daintily decorated chapel, but not since the coronation of King George had there been such a gathering of royalties and notable personages as on this occasion.

Besides King George and Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandra, the king and queen of Norway and other royal relatives of the couple to the number of a score or more, the congregation consisted of members of the diplomatic corps, of the British government and of the royal households and of a few distinguished persons who had been especially honored.

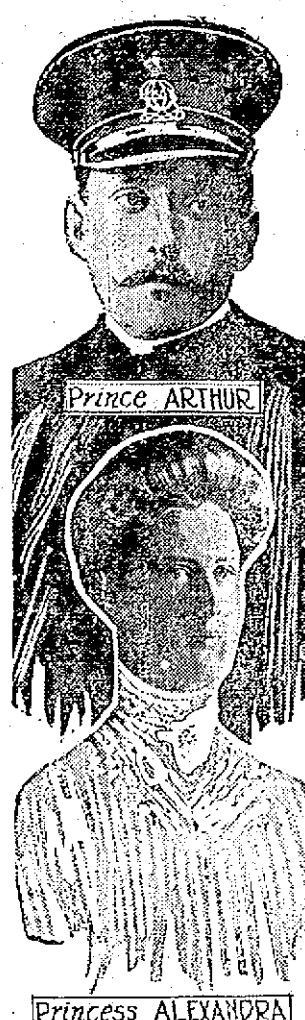

Among the diplomats were Ambassador Walter Hines Page, dressed in plain evening clothes and the only person there who wore neither a decoration nor a uniform.

Among the ladies who had received special invitations were Lady Decies, formerly Miss Helen Vivien Gould and Lady Alastair Innes-Ker, formerly Miss Anne Breeze, both of whom were accompanied by their husbands and wore their famous jewels.

The chapel in fact glittered with diamonds and pearls, almost every woman present wearing a tiara and necklace, each of fabulous value.

Lord and Lady Strathcona and Mount Royal and Lord and Lady Mount Stephen also were among the very few to whom invitations had been issued.

The bride who entered the chapel between King George and her mother looked charming in a dainty dress of white tulle, embroidered with pearls and diamonds and adorned with exquisite Brussels applique lace.

which the bridal veil also was made. The five bridesmaids were Princess Mary, daughter of the king and queen, Princess Louise, only sister of the bride, Princess Victoria and Princess Helena of Teck, daughters of the Duke and Duchess of Teck and Princess Mary, the little daughter of Prince and Princess Alexandra of Teck. Their frocks were made of delicate shell pink tulle and cream lace and they carried beautiful clusters of carnations and lilies, the same colors as decorated the chapel royal.

The pages were little Prince John, the king's youngest son and Prince Olaf of Norway.

Prince Arthur wore his uniform as a captain of the Royal Scots Greys with its bright scarlet tunic and high bearskin bushy and all the men among his royal relatives also wore military uniforms covered with decorations. The king was dressed as a field marshal.

The queens and other ladies were in beautiful costumes and dazzling with pearls and diamonds.

The ceremony was simple and was performed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the bishop of London as dean of the chapel royal and Canon Edgar Shephard, sub-dean of the chapel royal before an altar embellished with gold candelabra.

After the ceremonies the Archbishop of Canterbury delivered a short address in which he pointed out that while only a few had been able to assist at the ceremony, millions of Britons all over the world joined in rejoicing at the marriage of an English prince and princess.

The first part of the honeymoon is to be spent at the residence of Waldorf Astor at Sandwich bay on the south-east coast of England.

KILLED BY AUTO

Avery A. Thresher, Charged With
Manslaughter, Held in $1000
Pending Inquest

Another automobile fatality occurred last night about 6.30 o'clock at the corner of High and Chestnut streets when Miss Ellen Teague, a resident of Chestnut street, was run down and fatally injured by a large touring car owned and operated by Avery A. Thresher of Melrose Highlands. The victim was hurled to St. John's hospital with all possible speed, but died shortly after her arrival there.

The exact facts surrounding the accident have not yet been brought to light. It appears that Miss Teague was obscured from Thresher's view by the passing of an electric car and that she stepped out from behind the car without seeing the machine.

The automobile was so close to the unfortunate woman that it was impossible to stop it before reaching her. She was struck by the radiator and thrown heavily to the ground.

The car was halted within a short distance of the spot where the accident occurred and Mr. Thresher immediately hurried to the side of the injured woman. She was picked up in a semi-conscious condition and hurried to the hospital in the automobile, but the medical assistance offered there was fruitless and she died a few moments later.

The victim of the accident was 45 years of age and worked in the Boot mills as an operative. She is survived by five brothers, Bernard, Thomas and Joseph of Lowell, Patrick of Lynn and John of Gardner. Miss Teague was very well known among the parishioners of the Immaculate Conception church.

Mr. Thresher was arraigned before Judge Enright this morning in police court on the charge of manslaughter. His case was continued until Oct. 28, his bail being fixed at $1000.

HATED HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Mackay Says Mrs. Blake Has
Jealous Disposition and Threatened to Kill Her Own Husband

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Clarence Mackay, suffragette leader and wife of the Postal Telegraph head, today made answer to the suit filed against her by Katherine Blake for alleged alienation of the affections of her husband, Dr. Joseph Blake. Through her personal counsel Arthur C. Train, Mrs. Mackay denies all of Mrs. Blake's allegations in a formal answer filed in the supreme court, and characterizes Mrs. Blake as one who "has a jealous disposition, an ungovernable temper," and "no affection or love for her husband" who at one time, it is alleged, she threatened to kill.

Since 1885, Mrs. Mackay avers, Mrs. Blake has had no affection for the doctor.

"On the contrary," the answer continues, "she has sought to injure his good name by constantly spreading among his patients, friends and relatives false and unjust rumors and accusations against him regarding his intimacy with other women and his neglect of his marital obligations and has constantly declared to said persons that she, the said plaintiff, despised and hated her husband and desired to ruin him; and that during the year 1905 and repeatedly thereafter she, the said plaintiff, threatened to kill her said husband."

By reason of the facts alleged in the preceding paragraph, the plaintiff is and at all times mentioned in the complaint has been estranged from her husband and has utterly destroyed whatever affection or love he may have had for her."

Mrs. Mackay alleges further that Dr. Blake has not lived with the plaintiff as his wife since the year 1904, "long prior to the time when he first knew or had any acquaintances with the defendant, but on the contrary he has avoided the plaintiff as much as possible."

Mrs. Mackay says she did not meet Dr. Blake until 1905, long after the breach had come between him and his wife and she prays, therefore, that the suit against her be dismissed.

The summons and complaint in Mrs. Blake's suit was made public only yesterday. It set forth that she was living with and being supported by Dr. Blake until four years ago. Mrs. Mackay, she charged, "willfully, wickedly and maliciously alienated his affections," and still alienates them." Mrs. Blake's suit for separation against the doctor is pending in the courts.

FUNERAL NOTICES

TEAGUE—The funeral of Miss Ellen Teague will take place Friday morning at 9 o'clock from her home, 25 Chestnut street. A solemn high mass of requiem will be sung at the Immaculate Conception church at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery under the direction of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

KEEP WARSHIP IN MEXICAN WATERS

Situation Today Regarded as Drifting
Toward a Crisis—Diplomats Discuss
Huerta's Dictatorship

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The Mexican situation today was regarded by officials here as drifting toward a crisis, with the United States awaiting Huerta's next move. The commanding feature was the action of the Spanish minister in Mexico calling a diplomats' meeting to discuss Huerta's announcement of a practical dictatorship. Administration officials and diplomats attach deep significance to that.

This development attracted great attention because of the Spanish minister's friendship for Henry Lane Wilson, the former ambassador of the United States to Mexico and because the Spanish minister never has supported the policy of the United States.

President Wilson discussed the situation with Secretary Bryan and several senators and later the foreign relations committee of the senate held a meeting behind closed doors. It was a regular meeting, however, and the session of the senators was not called by developments.

Chairman Bacon of the committee after a talk with the president, expressed the view that even had the United States recognized Huerta, his assumption of the role of dictator would, in his opinion, have been sufficient cause for a withdrawal of recognition. There are no precedents for withdrawing recognition once extended, but diplomats pointed out that such an effect might be substantially accomplished by withdrawing an ambassador.

Plans for keeping an American naval force in Mexican waters commanded almost equal attention, especially in view of the strained situation following so closely Huerta's announcement that his government permission for the withdrawal of American men of war would not be renewed this month and the announcement of this government's intention to accomplish its end without conflicting with the laws of Mexico by changing the details of ships.

It was made plain that the Washington government was determined to have a naval representation ready for any eventuality and some observers thought the next step toward a culmination of the situation might be forced over that point.

He has practised in this city continually.

"Did this article have any unpleasant effects upon your mind?" asked the plaintiff's attorney?

"Yes."

"Describe them."

After several statements had been objected to by the defense, witness replied: "It hurt my feelings."

"Did it cause any physical agony such as sleepless nights?"

"I cannot say that it did."

"Did it cause you worry?"

"Yes."

"What is the salary of the judge of the police court?"

Here Mr. Kerwin objected and the attorneys engaged in an argument.

Pres. Wilson Shocked

The instructions delivered by Charge O'Shaughnessy to the authorities at Mexico City, defining the attitude of the United States toward Huerta's assumption of dictatorship were as follows:

"The president is shocked at the lawlessness of the methods employed by General Huerta and as a sincere friend of Mexico is deeply distressed at the situation which has arisen. He finds it impossible otherwise than as an act of bad faith toward the United States Huerta's course in dissolving congress and arresting the deputies."

"It is not only a violation of constitutional guarantees but destroys all possibility of a free and fair election. The president believes that an election held at this time and under the conditions as now existing would have none of the sanction with which law surrounds the ballot and that the result therefore could not be regarded as representing the will of the people."

"The president would not feel justified in accepting the results of such an election or in recognizing the president so chosen."

Finally the judge ruled that witness be allowed to answer what the salary was at that time.

"I believe about $3,500."

"Did you have any conversation with the governor concerning the appointment?"

Witness replied that he had such conversations on two or three occasions.

After a few more questions by Attorney G. W. Pearson, Mr. Kerwin took up the cross-examination. He questioned witness closely regarding his candidacy for city offices on certain occasions and regarding his affairs in local politics in general.

PLANS FOR BETTER CITY

GEORGE M. HARRIGAN President

HARVEY B. GREENE Chairman of City Beautiful Committee

Important Discussions at Fall Meeting of the Board of Trade Directors Last Night

The annual fall meeting of the directors of the Lowell board of trade was held last night in the rooms in the Central building. The meeting was for the purpose of discussing plans for furtherance and improving of the work of the board for the coming year, and the session was preceded by a banquet. The speaking was wholly informal, and the men present were agreed that the meeting was the best that has been held in some time.

The following directors were in attendance: George M. Harrigan, Harry Dunlap, Rev. C. H. Williams, John H. Murphy, Arthur W. Saunders, Hon. Edward Fisher of Westford, Daniel E. Carroll, Milo D. Clay, George H. Taylor, Hon. James E. O'Donnell, Irving D. Kimball, Walter E. Gurnea, Daniel W. Shannahan, Frank H. Board, Harvey B. Greene, Judge F. A. Fisher, Patrick O'Hearn, Alonzo G. Walsh, R. F. Madden, C. H. Nelson, Lawrence Cummings.

During the evening numerous and valuable suggestions were made for betterment of various conditions of the city, and plans were introduced for increased activity of the board of trade, which if carried out as intended, will redound greatly to Lowell's advantage.

His Honor, Mayor James E. O'Donnell, was prominent among those who gave expression to their ideas relative to the public good. Among other things, he urged that the board of trade request another public market hearing. On the occasion of the last hearing, too little interest was displayed on the part of the citizens, although the farmers appeared and requested a public market where they could sell to the retailer, and not to the consumer. He emphasized the benefit of a public market where producers sell directly to the consumer. He believed that another hearing should take place and a real discussion be held concerning the matter.

Mayor O'Donnell also recommended action toward the immediate erection of a public hall which he believed is most necessary which he said should be in the central portion of the city. He also protested against the allowing of unsightly fences to remain along the canal banks.

Mr. Harvey B. Greene responded to President Harrigan's call for suggestions with a proposal regarding the trees of the city. Mr. Greene is chairman of the City Beautiful committee and he spoke concerning the planting of trees throughout the city, dwelling on the ineffectual attempts of the past along this line. He suggested that the proposed park department nursery be used as far as possible in the matter and that the board of trade contribute $50 to the purchasing and planting of shade trees in the school yards about the city. He said that the school yards will later be the only places where shade trees may be successfully planted. He proposed planting trees on one street without charge as an example to the people. Trees, he said, should be planted in the yards rather than in the gutters.

In this matter, the mayor responded. Mr. Greene, adding that first of all, the attention of the members of the board of the people of the city in general should be directed toward the kind of trees that should be planted in the yards away from overhead wires in the streets. He spoke of the numerous protests against pole locations, but the city council has not yet received genuine support from the citizens in the matter of obtaining relief from poles and wires in the streets.

Mr. Robert F. Madden spoke for the highway committee, and for the membership committee. He said the work on highways is progressing most satisfactorily. He urged an increase of the membership of the board of trade to strengthen the organization. In this he was seconded by President Harrigan. There are now 750 members and the number should reach 1000. To this end a membership campaign will be started about November 1.

The congestion of Central street was the subject of a talk by Patrick

O'Hearn, chairman of the committee on municipal affairs. There should be, he said, other arteries to Merrimack street to relieve the congestion. "Relief," he said, must come in time. Broadway might be extended to Middlesex street without great expense. The traffic of the city is, he said, crippled, and the speaker, in a way that is perhaps not paralleled in any other city.

Mr. Alonzo G. Walsh spoke along the same line, corroborating Mr. O'Hearn and saying that the Central street problem is a serious one. There should be other outlets, he said, and Palmer street is the natural location. It would increase real estate values and augment the symmetrical growth of the city. It was proposed to suggest this improvement to the new city planning board and further to suggest Mr. O'Hearn as a member of the board.

Mr. George H. Taylor and Commissioner Lawrence Cummings of the committee on public health discussed the matter of a contagious hospital. Mr. Cummings said he has visited many cities in the state to examine their contagious hospitals. Mr. Taylor said that his committee would cooperate with the city authorities in every possible way in the matter. If 150 patients are to be provided for, the cost of the building will approximate $49,000. Mr. Cummings also spoke of the requirements for the building of tenements and for the closing of undesirable buildings. He urged all tenement house owners to comply with the ordinances and requirements in providing for the safety of occupants. He said that due precautions, in his opinion, are not now observed.

President Harrigan spoke for the transportation committee upon transportation matters which are of vital interest to the merchants and manufacturers. Senator Fisher discussed car service between No. Chelmsford and Ayer, saying that it might be improved. It was decided to communicate with the company in this matter.

Representative Williams spoke of transportation matters in Billerica and in particular concerning the proposed extension of the car service to the new car shops. He had worked out a plan for this extension from St. Lowell to Billerica via Billerica street and thence to High street and further along down the east side of the railroad tracks. He said the street railway company is now considering this plan.

Mr. Harrigan introduced the discussion of a new hotel for this city, one of modern construction and equipment and suitable for a city of this size. Concerning this there was considerable talk and Mr. Carroll and Mr. Murphy both said that there is a chance of a new and modern hotel being built provided a lease may be secured. No fault was found with the present hotels.

Daniel F. Carroll, for the insurance committee, advocated closer attention to fire prevention.

Harry Dunlap, chairman of the manufacturing and mercantile affairs, believed that the vital thing is a genuine campaign of persistent advertising of the city in some effective way.

President Harrigan favored this idea and said that a good deal had been done along this line in a small way.

Mr. Harrigan suggested that it would be good advertising for the city to have good streets and well lighted streets.

George H. Taylor suggested a large electric light sign along the railroad tracks, similar to that in Worcester.

Irving D. Kimball suggested that in planning, highway work might be planned so as to get all preliminary work out of the way a year ahead of the final paving.

It was suggested that Market street, well paved and continued through Salem street to Pawtucket street, would be a decided relief to the congestion of automobile traffic passing through the city via Merrimack and Moody streets.

Mr. Greene spoke of the triangle in corner Gorham street at the corner of the East Chelmsford road. The plan is to spend $150 beautifying this spot. The board voted to favor this project.

Arthur W. Saunders reported briefly on the waterway project.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS HELD

By Lowell Courts of French American Foresters

J. H. GUILLET

C. M. A. C. hall in Pawtucket street last night was the scene of a pretty gathering, the occasion being a joint installation of the recently elected officers of the three local courts of the French American Foresters, Courts Blanche de Castille, Samuel de Champlain and St. Louis. Despite the inclement weather the hall, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, was filled to its utmost and after 8 o'clock standing room was all that was available. A fine entertainment program was carried out and there were speeches galore, among the speakers being Rev. J. Herve Racette, O. M. I., Ph. D., pastor of St. Joseph's parish; Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., pastor of Notre Dame de Lourdes and Rev. J. B. Labrosse, pastor of St. Louis; J. H. Guillet, Esq., supreme chief forester of the order, and several others.

The meeting was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock by Supreme Chief Forester J. H. Guillet, who in a brief address explained the purpose of the gathering. He complimented the new officers who were to be ushered into office, and then reviewed the progress of the French American Foresters since the order was founded, a few years ago. He told of the work of the various courts all over New England and also gave interesting figures concerning the financial condition of the order. Lawyer Guillet concluded by making an appeal to all French speaking people of this city, men and women, to join this grand order and he also urged the present members to do their utmost in the recruiting line.

The next speaker was Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., supreme spiritual adviser of the order, who dwelt at length on the good to be derived from such an organization as the French American Foresters, for he said it was a Catholic mutual and benefit organization. Rev. J. H. Racette, O. M. I., Ph. D., and Rev. J. B. Labrosse spoke on the same principles, and the three clergymen urged the members of their order, David A. Parthenais; vice chief forester, Hypolite Gauthier; treasurer, Paul Vignat; financial secretary, Arthur Corneille; corresponding secretary, Edmond Lambert; guards, Camille Assotte and Narcisse Poucher; sentinels, Arthur Champoux and Isidore Tetreault; trustees, Joseph Ellis, Telephone Rainville and Henri Deschenes; dean, Joseph Parent.

Court St. Louis: Ex-chief forester, James St. Hilaire; chief forester, Rosider Leclair; vice chief forester, Edmond Traversy; treasurer, Adam Maille; financial secretary, Godfroi Canion; corresponding secretary, Isidore Trudel; guards, Severin Hebert and Fabien Maille; trustees, Malco Daigle, David Auclair and Thomas Savard, and dean, Joseph Julien.

BACHELOR GIRLS' CLUB

The members of the Bachelor Girls' club held a very important and interesting meeting last evening and transacted considerable business. Miss Moe T. Gallagher, president of the club, occupied the chair. Everything was got in readiness for their autumn party, which will be conducted in Association hall tomorrow evening. Each and every member of the club spoke in an encouraging way in regard to the party and it was the consensus of opinion that the affair will be successful both socially and financially. Minor's celebrated orchestra will furnish music for the party.

The Bachelor Girls have made a lasting impression upon the music loving public of our city in their past entertainments and the girls feel assured that the autumn party tomorrow night will be the most successful of all.

LOCAL MEN BACK

From the Convention of Y.M.H.A. Held in Providence, R. I.

President F. J. Greenberg, Vice-President Samuel Smith and Secretary-Treasurer Sigmund E. Roessler of the Young Men's Hebrew association of this city, returned yesterday from the Y. M. H. A. convention held in Providence.

The convention was the third annual held by this association and over 450 delegates and alternates from different parts of New England were present. The session yesterday was a long one. Definite action was taken on most of the matters which had been recommended in the joint report of President Abraham H. Klubock and Sec. Max H. Rebeck. During the day there were also meetings of various committees and following these the statement was made that the association was in most promising condition. The closing business was the selection of Lawrence as the next convention city. The election of officers was lively as there were many candidates for the different offices, particularly for membership on the executive board. The officers elected were: President, A. H. Klubock of Chelsea; first vice-president, Max Ullin of East Boston; second vice-president, Benjamin Shoulman; third vice-president, Samuel Barnett; secretary, Max H. Rebeck; treasurer, Samuel Astorff.

A feature of the convention this year was the presence of the members of the Young Women's Hebrew association and they entertained on several different occasions. The ball held Monday night in Infantry hall was also a big success and there were nearly 1500 people present. Before the adjournment of the convention the delegates expressed their gratitude for the splendid entertainment they were accorded at the hands of the Providence association.

DELAY SULZER TRIAL

High Court of Impeachment in Executive Session Throughout Morning—No Agreement

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The high court of impeachment which is trying Gov. Sulzer recessed for lunch shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon after having been in executive session throughout the morning endeavoring to arrive at a decision whether article 4 of the impeachment shall be amended or the assembly shall be asked to provide additional articles to include the testimony offered by Messrs. Peck and Morgenthau.

The failure of the court to reach an agreement upon this question was productive of many rumors. One was that a majority of the court of appeals had reached a decision to vote this afternoon on sending the testimony in question to the assembly on the basis for the new article on the ground that to amend article 4 would be unconstitutional. Many of the senators, however, strongly opposed this action.

A rumor that an injunction had been served on the state treasurer to prevent him from paying the judges their daily salaries, caused a flurry in the capitol today. Inquiry developed that some voter who was not in accord with the proceedings had written a letter to a state official demanding such action.

Fell Into Pail of Boiling Water at His Home This Morning

Three-year-old Francis Clark was severely burned this morning just before 12 o'clock when he fell into a pail of boiling water in the kitchen of his parents' home at 145 Chapel street.

The youngster was playing about the house and in running from an adjoining room into the kitchen pitched into the boiling fluid. He was taken to the hospital in the ambulance with all haste and is resting comfortably this afternoon.

THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

THE EVENING CLASSES WILL OPEN TOMORROW AT THE APPOINTED TIME

Quite a number of young men, as was stated in The Sun yesterday, were disappointed because they could not be admitted to the industrial school to pursue any branch of study except one in which they are employed for some part of the day. If a young man wanted to learn auto repairing, for instance, he would not be admitted unless he was employed in that line of business.

It was feared by some that this condition of affairs would hold in the day industrial school and in order that there might be no misunderstanding about it The Sun asked Principal Fisher about the matter this morning.

"No, indeed, that does not hold good in the day school," said Mr. Fisher.

"We teach trades during the day because we have time enough at our disposal, but the best we can do in the evening is to assist men in their trades. It would take thirty-five years to teach a man a trade from beginning to end in the evening school."

This restriction, however, does not apply to the girls' department in the evening industrial school.

Loomfixers Tonight.

Mr. Fisher announced today that the only class open tonight would be the loomfixers and that other classes would recite Thursday and Friday as scheduled. The other classes include plumbing, electricity, carpentry and machine shop work. The picking and carding class will not start until some time next week.

Opening to the storm last evening the opening was postponed till Thursday evening.

DEFENDS TARIFF LAW

UNDERWOOD SAYS 5 PER CENT. CLAUSE IS NOT SO DRASTIC AS PAINE-ALDRICH PROVISION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Representative Underwood, an early White House caller today defended the five per cent. clause of the tariff law giving a discount to imports in American ships by declaring it was merely a return to the democratic doctrines of Madison and Jefferson, and would rehabilitate the American merchant marine.

"I am not hunting a trade war," said Mr. Underwood, "but the president has the right to cancel any trade agreements that we have that may conflict with this provision. The five per cent. clause is not nearly so drastic as the maximum provision of the Paine-Aldrich law."

HE WAS IN BAD

Thomas Ring Took a Bottle of Whiskey to Moving Picture Show

Thomas Ring came to Lowell a few days ago to have a good time and indulged himself in what he considered mostly went toward happiness, red liquor. Thomas, however, did not appear in a happy frame of mind this morning when he faced Judge Enright on the charge of drunkenness.

Officer Mahan, who made the arrest, related to the court just what manner of customer the defendant is when under the influence of alcoholic beverages. It seems that he headed for a theatre last evening with a bottle of whiskey snugly concealed about his person. Whether or not the moving picture which was being run at the time portrayed a desert or other similarly dry place, was not divulged, but certain it is that Thomas grew very thirsty during the entertainment and bought himself of the bottle.

The officer testified that the defendant was informed that he was not an exactly desirable member of the audience, but that Ring was in an argumentative mood and insisted that he remain and watch the rest of the performance. His insistence took such a violent turn that Officer Mahan finally arrested him and took him to the station.

Judge Enright fined him $10 this morning. The defendant has been working for some time past at a lodge in West Acton, he told the court. He was allowed three weeks in which to get together his fine.

Larceny Charged

Morris Simon, a man from Boston who really wanted to stay in Boston and not appear in Lowell this morning, pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny. A. S. Goldman, Esq., appeared for the defendant.

It is claimed by the prosecution that the defendant lifted a gold watch, chain and bracelet which belonged to Rebecca Swartz. The case was continued until Oct. 22.

Taken to Boston
James McKee, John H. Sweeney and John A. Smith, the three men wanted in Boston for larceny, had their cases of drunkenness placed on file this morning. Inspectors from Boston took the three defendants to Boston yesterday afternoon and they were arraigned there today. The apprehension of the trio was due to the sagacity and quick-wittedness of Officers Sheridan and O'Keefe.

For Non-Support
Redmond Sullivan, charged with the non-support of his wife and minor children pleaded guilty to the charge and was ordered to pay over the sum of $2 each week toward their support.

Geo. F. Donnelly, an old offender, was sent to jail for three months on the charge of drunkenness. Probation Officer Slattery released seven first offenders.

Used Stung Shot

Tony Greckick and John Ordny, charged with assaulting Eftatios Klarinos, using a stung shot in the operation, were fined $12 each.

ROME, Oct. 15.—Some tourists who visited the Cathedral of Santa Maria Maggiore at Spello yesterday discovered that Pinturicchio's painting of the Madonna in the Cappella del Sacramento, to which is valued at $40,000, had been stolen and replaced by a copy. They informed the police, who interrogated the prior, Fr. Santarelli. The latter admitted the substitution and said he gave the original to the Marquis Bernardino, an art dealer.

The police arrested the prior and the marquis. It is believed that the original of the painting has been smuggled to London.

WHAT GAMBOA DIKE LOOKED LIKE BEFORE IT WAS DYNAMITED; MAP OF PANAMA CANAL

PREPARING GAMBOA DIKE FOR EXPLOSION

PHOTO © 1913 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

THE GAMBOA DIKE, WHICH LAST YEAR WAS DYED AWAY, (LOOKING SOUTH)

The Gamboa dike, which separated the north entrance of Culebra cut from Gatun lake, was blown up by an electric current switched on by cable by President Wilson in his office at Washington. The explosion threw 200 feet of the center of the dike high into the air in a fanlike mass of rock, earth and water. When the smoke cleared away 2,000 persons gathered on every side of the dike saw the water from the lake flow rapidly into the lower level of the cut just like a stream at a point where there are rapids. The sight was not especially spectacular because the difference of levels between the lake and the cut is only six feet, the level of both being now 67.7 feet above the sea. Colonel Guthrie said: "I cannot predict the time when the canal will be open to navigation. The Cucaracha slide now blocks the channel to a length of 600 feet, and it is estimated that 3,000,000 cubic yards must be removed. This work will be begun by dredges within two weeks. If we can take out 500,000 yards a month and no more the slide will be empty by Jan. 1, I hope the channel will be entirely cleared by the first of the year." Forty tons of dynamite were used in the task of figuratively completing the cutting of the Panama canal. The explosion was distributed in 1,227 charges under the dike. Four hundred charges were exploded at one time, and the rest were set off at intervals. This picture shows workmen preparing the dike for the explosion. The map explains itself.

JAIL DELIVERY

Trusty Tells Warden of Plot—Find Loaded Revolvers and Saws

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 15.—A conspiracy to effect a wholesale jail delivery in the Hudson county jail was frustrated within an hour of the time set for its consummation by the finding of a loaded revolver in the cells of two prisoners and five steel saws hidden in a bathroom. The detection and prevention of the plot was announced yesterday.

Warden Sullivan was told of the plot by a trusty. The plan was to hold up a keeper at the point of a revolver in the bathroom, take his keys, open the cells and escape by a window, the bars of which were found to have been sawed in anticipation of the flight. Ernest Wildhaber and Dominick Lelappe, alias Kid Dynamite, alleged ring-leaders in the conspiracy, were placed in solitary confinement after revolvers found in their cells were taken from them.

Wildhaber and Lelappe are awaiting trial on charges of implication in the shooting of Timothy Conroy last winter. They refused to say yesterday how they got the weapons and saws.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Many Intending Students Disappointed in Obtaining Admission, Being Barred by Employment Rule

Quite a number of young men who wanted to be admitted to the Industrial school have been disappointed in finding that they cannot be admitted to any branch of study except one in which they are employed for some part of the day. No students can learn the business of auto repairing unless employed in that line of business. This applies to all branches for men and will greatly reduce the attendance and limit the usefulness of the school. Various lines of mill work will be conducted at the old Moody school where there will be loomfixing, picking and drawing, ring spinning, and engineering for firemen in addition to the classes in electric work and auto repairing.

The wedding is the outcome of a romance that had its inception when Thorpe, as the star on the football eleven at the school, met Miss Muller after a game he had won by the field goals he had kicked.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe will leave tonight for New York where on Thursday they will join the New York Giants on their tour of the world.

By experts Thorpe has been chosen as one of the greatest football players that ever appeared on an American gridiron; while as an all-round athlete he is regarded as the greatest the world has yet seen.

THE WATER VERY BAD

RESIDENT GOES IN SEARCH OF ALDERMAN BARRETT AND SAYS HE WON'T PAY

A caller at the city hall yesterday made the broad statement that Lowell's water supply has gone to the dogs entirely. This man said he was looking for Commissioner Barrett. "I want to find out, if I can," he said, "what is the trouble with the water. It is so bad at our house, and I live on Fort Hill avenue, that we cannot use it at all. We can't even make tea with it and while we are told that the water contains nothing that is absolutely injurious to health, the appearance of the water is almost enough to turn one's stomach."

"My wife cannot use the water for washing and I want to try to find out how long this sort of thing is going to continue. It may be, as Mr. Barrett says, that the supply at the boulevard wells is becoming exhausted because of long and constant use, but it seems to me as if there is something else the trouble."

"I do know that the filling of the electric street sprinklers from the street raises ructions with the water and I am somewhat of the opinion, too, that general change in pipes has a great deal to do with the present condition of the water. I have known the water to be off color before, but never to such an extent as at the present time. We were about to petition the municipal council for a hearing in the matter, but I decided to see Mr. Barrett and find out what he knows about it. I will certainly refuse to pay for the water which I am receiving at the present time. Our water supply has gone to the bad entirely. It cannot be used even for washing without damage to the clothes."

Case of Spooney vs. Morris Opened in the Superior Court

Early this afternoon the case of Margaret Spooney vs. Ann Morris was called and the trial opened.

In her declaration, plaintiff states that she was next of kin and only heir of one Hannah Maria McNulty. The defendant, stated plaintiff was appointed executrix of the will. In answering the declaration of the plaintiff, defendant denies each and every allegation. The attorney for the plaintiff is William D. Hogan, Esq., while the defense is represented by Messrs. Kerwin and Reilly.

ATTACK CURRENCY BILL

Speakers at Conference on Currency Reform Term it as Dangerous and Unscientific

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The Glass-Owen currency bill now before congress was attacked as dangerous and unscientific at today's session of the national conference on currency reform. Prof. E. R. Seligman of Columbia university, Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank of New York, and Prof. J. F. Johnson, dean of the New York university school of commerce, led the assault at the morning session of the conference held at Columbia university.

Prof. Seligman said that the great, successful banking system of Europe has been framed not by politicians, but instead by bankers and theorists and for that reason Germany, France and England had been a generation ahead of this country in these matters.

"We cannot refrain from expressing regret," said Prof. Seligman, "that in this country alone the question should be approached, not from the point of view of the interests of the whole country but from the point of view of one political party. We have not been able to raise ourselves above party."

The professor made a sharp rejoinder to Representative Glass, sponsor in the house for the currency bill, whose speech was presented at yesterday's session. The speaker referred to "an unfortunate remark" by a distin-gushed leader in our legislative halls to the effect that the real opposition to the bill came from bankers because their profits were threatened.

"That seems to me to be an ungenerous statement," said Prof. Seligman, "and I do not believe it to be true. I do not believe that our great bankers are so lacking in patriotism as to make whatever objection they care to make on the narrow grounds of their own immediate profits."

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. If you want a clear pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box.

Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

Section 1. Members of the fire department of any city which accepts the provisions of this act, as hereinafter provided, shall be excused from duty for one day out of every five days without loss of pay. ### MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred MacMillan, 233 Jackson street, Lawrence, Tuesday afternoon when their daughter, Miss Irene Katherine MacMillan, a graduate of the Lowell Normal school, became the bride of Cornelius F. McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McLaughlin of East Douglas. Rev. Chas. E. McCollay, pastor of the Free Baptist church performed the ceremony. The double ring service was used. Miss Marion MacMillan, a sister of the bride who is a nurse at the Lawrence General hospital was the bridesmaid, and Clemence Jeffers of Providence, R. I. a close friend of the bridegroom, was best man. Prior to the ceremony Miss Ieda Scholzes, of Providence, R. I. rendered Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to the immediate family of the young couple by Caterer Page of Lowell. At 9 o'clock the bride and bridegroom departed and they will tour the south. On their return they will make their home at East Douglas and will be home to their friends after November 1st.

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—New impetus to the work of cutting a canal through Capt. Cod to save shipping the necessity of rounding the cape during such disastrous storms as have swept Massachusetts during the past few years was given today through the approval of the issue of $30,000 more stock and an equal amount of bonds by the public service, harbor and lands commission. This issue will bring the total issued stock up to $4,114,000 and the issue of bonds to $4,110,000.

Sleep Disturbing Bladder Weakness

Backache-Rheumatism, Quickly Vanish

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief From Few Doses of Croxone

Croxone soon relieves such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings, cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; heals the inflamed membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, lifeless kidneys so they can filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to end the worst backaches, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders, and overcome the numerous other similar conditions.

Croxone is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results.

An original package costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed.

FALL OF LANDLORDISM

Many men have written of the rise and fall of landlordism or its equivalent in Ireland or elsewhere but when David Lloyd George, the brilliant chancellor of the exchequer, of England, condemns it, his words are far more than usually significant, for the extraordinary little statesman never stops short at speaking. A few years ago he spoke of the need for curtailing some of the powers of an effete and arrogant house of lords, out of sympathy with the spirit of the age and country, and without a great flourish of trumpets he stopped talking soon afterwards and got quietly to work with the result that the house of lords was speedily rendered harmless by a power they had formerly disclaimed. When he says, therefore, "Landlordism is the greatest monopoly in this land and the people are trusting in the government to put forth its strong right arm to lift them from the mire," we may watch coming parliamentary activity with the expectation of seeing the death of landlordism, which is tottering to decay even now.

The chancellor gave some illuminating figures to prove that the land was not giving back to the laborer sufficient return for his toil. The landlords flourish and the laborers emigrate. He spoke of the limitless power formerly wielded by the landowners and summed up all its crimes in the sentence: "In Ireland millions have been driven away from the land by legal process." What was more to the point, he dwelt on the methods to be pursued by the government for the abolition of landlordism. The game preserves must be cut down two-thirds, a living wage must be given to farm laborers, labor must be drawn to the farms by good wages and better hours, and the laborer must have land enough to provide him with the necessities of life and give him ultimate hope of owning his own farm. He concluded with the promise that powerful aid would be evoked from the state to carry out these purposes and to put them into operation. England is making history these days and to Lloyd George is due much of the glory. Like another David he has succeeded in unequal contests against the giant Goliath of greed and injustice and his spirit is still strong.

BANKERS AND CURRENCY

At the recent Boston convention of bankers and on many other similar occasions the bankers of the country have signified their displeasure at some of the principal features of the currency bill which the administration is at present supporting, and which President Wilson wishes to have passed at the extra session of congress. The bankers do not like the bill and it is not expected that they should. We cannot expect them to approve a measure that will curtail some of their present unquestioned power over the finances of the country any more than we could expect business in general to approve of a tariff revision which did away with special privilege.

The substance of the technical objections to the currency bill seems to be that it will give the government too much power over the finances of the country and consequently will prevent the bankers from being absolute in their decisions of what its financial policies shall be. They claim that to have such a degree of government control as is intended will endanger the banking institutions and place them at the mercy of succeeding administrations. But on the other hand those who favor the currency bill point out many instances of the abuse of power by the bankers in the past, and show that they have been by no means disinterested in their management. It seems like a case of mutual distrust, the government fearing to allow too much power to the bankers because of past abuses and the bankers fearing the change because they will lose their power to rob the people. It may be argued that the bankers are experts in finance and know what the country needs, but they consider mainly their own interests rather than those of the country. They should be listened to, of course, but they should not be permitted to dictate the laws that govern their business any more than the national association of manufacturers should be allowed to dictate the terms of the tariff law.

As our currency is at present constituted there is a lack of centralized control which makes the system involved and unelastic, and the monetary balance is too readily swayed by individuals or powerful groups. The administration bill does not aim at giving the government nearly so much power as is now in the hands of Wall street, and the fact that the power so held was too often used to crush merchants and traders is an additional argument for some degree of government regulation that would prevent a repetition of financial panics and other preventable conditions. What is needed is a law that will make the currency of the country responsive to business needs, a currency that will adjust itself automatically to varying conditions; toward the creation of such a currency system the president is directing his undoubted and well proved influence and judgment. If he succeeds in passing the present bill he will render the country a service probably not equalled by any president since Lincoln.

THE PRESIDENT'S WHIP

A great deal is being said at present adversely and otherwise concerning the almost absolute power which the president seems to possess over the deliberations of congress. During the long tariff debate his wishes, occasionally expressed openly, were the strongest factor in shaping the fortunes of the bill and the same seems to hold true thus far in the case of currency revision. The powerful part of the matter is that the power of the president is as strangely wielded as it was entirely unexpected. He was generally weighed as a great idealist, but an impractical politician, and yet he has proved himself to be a very practical man arriving at his ends by open and undeviating declaration of principle. His whip is all the more effective because he uses it so quietly.

Probably one's views of the desirability or otherwise of the application of this silent power of the president is liable to be colored by bias. Those who dislike him cannot see anything good in it. But apart from his consideration as an abstract proposition the fact remains that he has used it wisely and well. When he ran for the presidency he outlined certain policies that his party and he would support, and he has been in the main constant to the principles then announced. In no case has the power of President Wilson been used for anything personal or any hobby not generally understood. He has supported the reforms he was elected to inaugurate. So long as he does this there shall be little cause for complaint.

One of the most interesting commentaries on this power of the president, and one that deserves meditation, was that of President Taft, who was able to speak from a more than happy experience. He recently said in a Boston speech that he was glad to see a president at the head of national affairs whose wishes were heeded in congress. President Taft failed because he was timid about piloting many reforms and ineffectual in steering others through congress. If President Wilson fails it will be from a decidedly different cause. He has the courage of his convictions and thus far he has been phenomenally successful in having his wishes heeded. He is showing up as a statesman rather than a theorist.

ARGENTINE BEEF

One of the practical results of the new tariff has been the importation of Argentine beef for the home market, and if the newspaper accounts may be trusted it compares favorably with the home product while selling at a far lower figure. This is one commodity concerning which the domestic controlling interests cannot well complain at foreign importation as the meat packers have been lamenting the scarcity of the home beef, and using that scarcity as a pretext for raising the price. If Argentine beef is good and wholesome, and cheaper than our golden calves, let us have it by all means. Our product grows scarcer and more costly yearly. When it is a case of choosing between Argentine beef or no beef it is easy to make a choice. We are still meat eaters.

BREAKERS AHEAD

It does not look as though the elections which are to be held in Mexico in a few weeks will result in any settlement of that lawless country for Huerta has wiped out the last semblance of constitutional government and brands the nation as a dictator absolute in his will—unless the people swarm to his palace doors with the enemy in their hearts that he showed to the slain Madero. At present anarchy reigns; what may happen tomorrow no one can tell but those who have followed the recent history of Mexico can guess, shudderingly. Meanwhile it would be interesting to know what those think who were so loud in their condemnation of President Wilson's refusal to recognize Huerta. Time has vindicated the policy of the administration at Washington.

Seen and Heard

Dr. Edward Schuler, who has abandoned his post as assistant to a celebrated Chicago specialist, because he dislikes the latter's methods, said in New York: "Imagination must always be reckoned with in medicine—sometimes as a friend, sometimes as a foe. I know a doctor who treated an old woman for typhoid, and on each visit he took her temperature by holding a thermometer under her tongue. One day, when she had nearly recovered, the doctor did not bother to take her temperature and he had hardly got 100 yards from the house when her son called him back. 'Mother is worse,' said the man, 'come back at once.' The doctor returned. On his entry into the sick room the old woman looked up at him with angry and reproachful eyes. 'Doctor,' she said, 'why didn't you give me the finger under me tongue today? That always done me more good than all the rest of your trash.'—Chicago Record-Herald.

Mayor Johnson was condemning a society whose object is the enforcement of the old Sunday blue laws—those laws which make it a crime to sell milk or newspapers, tea or other necessities on the Sabbath. The mayor, with his wonted epigrammatic touch, said of this society: "It is a pity these gentlemen can't learn that religion is a staff, not a club."—New York Times.

BEAUTY EVERYWHERE Haverhill Gazette: It is certainly a lofty mission, that of the poets, which calls us to conscious realization of the beauty before our eyes, but life would mean infinitely more if we learned to discover a little of the same beauty and poetry first hand; if we grew to respond to the noble in everyday events, if we appreciated the heroism, the delicacies and the honest worth that is everywhere about us.

VOITURNO

Springfield Union: While shipbuilders have been striving to produce an unsinkable ship, too little attention has been devoted to the even more important object of securing an invulnerable ship. It is to be hoped that the fate of the Volturino and 126 of its unfortunate passengers and crew will prompt the navy to inaugurate a campaign that will focus attention on this inexcusable neglect and compel an immediate and drastic reform in the methods of ship construction and the means of preventing fires at sea.

RIVER NAVIGATION

Haverhill Record: The plan to make a deep-water channel from Lowell to the sea has merit. It will not cost out of proportion to the enormous benefits to be derived from a saving on the millions of tons of freight which come in and go out of our busy manufacturing center of Lowell every year. Our state officials in charge of plans for development are already on record in favor of an 18-foot channel; they base their statements on the result of their engineers' investigations and survey from Haverhill to Lowell. The government engineers are at work on a similar survey from Haverhill to the sea. We believe their

The upshot of it was that the two opposing lawyers, each of whom afterwards became eminent in their profession, came into possession of the two farms.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD

MRS. GLADYS BROOKS, HIDE OF A FEW MONTHS, DIED UNDER MYSTERIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES

REVERE, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Gladys Brooks was found dead in her apartment at Revere Beach yesterday under circumstances which prompted the authorities to order an investigation. Medical Examiner George B. Magrath, after examining the body last night, said the cause of death was not apparent, and that he would perform an autopsy today. Mrs. Brooks was 22 years old and had been married only a short time. The police sought her husband last night to question him on the matter but he could not be found.

MAYOR INVITED

To Attend International Convention of Mayors in London

A letter has been received today by Mayor James E. O'Donnell, who is a member of the Anglo-American exposition which will take place in London next year to celebrate one hundred years of peace and progress between Great Britain and the United States, from Albert E. Kralcy, commissioner of the exposition, which includes the Earl of Kintore, Lord Blythe, Lord Rotherham, and many other British noblemen, to come to London for the purpose of attending an international convention of mayors which will be held at the exposition under the presidency of the honorable lord mayor of London.

Great interest has been shown in this unique convention, which will be the first opportunity afforded to the mayors of different important cities to meet in conference and to be able to discuss municipal and civic affairs and methods of government in vogue in the different parts of the world, and should prove of great value to the community at large, as no doubt a good deal of valuable information will be gathered by these mayors and their delegations who will be attending this important meeting.

SUMMER CAPITOL CLOSED

CORNISH, N. H., Oct. 15.—The summer capital is closed. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and other members of the president's family left here yesterday for Washington. They were accompanied by the secret service men who have been here during the summer.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Despite the inclement weather of last evening a large number of members of the Samuel H. Hines lodge, K. of P. gathered in their rooms where the regular monthly meeting was held. It is planned to celebrate the golden jubilee of the order on Feb. 15, 1914 and a committee consisting of Col. Wallace Langell, E. C. P. C. J. Prescott and Robert J. Fullerton was appointed to confer with committees from other lodges in relation to the observance. One application for membership was received and considerable other routine business was transacted.

Gen. Fiske Lodge

At the meeting of Gen. Fiske lodge, No. 44, I. O. G. T. held Monday night in Veritas hall the following officers were elected to serve for the coming year: Chief temple, Helen Gregg; vice temple, Lena Hunsicker; past chief temple, J. T. Adams, Jr.; secretary, Bertha Ober; financial secretary, David Jones; treasurer, J. T. Adams, Jr.; recorder, Helen Gregg.

A large amount of business was transacted and it is planned to hold a big meeting on November 10.

FIRE SCARE FATAL

President of Hampden Railroad Corp. Died From Excitement

WESTFIELD, Oct. 15.—Excitement due to a small fire is believed to have brought on an attack of heart trouble which caused the death last night of Ralph D. Gillett, president of the Hampden railroad corporation, and a well known railroad constructor.

Gillett had just alighted from a train from Boston when he heard that his home was on fire. Jumping into an automobile, he hurried home, arriving there with the fire apparatus. As he started to run into the house, Gillett sank to the ground and died within a few minutes. The fire was a small smudge under a stairway and was easily extinguished.

Gillett was 47 years old. He leaves a widow and six children.

OUT OF PRISON

Julian Hawthorne and Dr. Morton Were Released Today

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 15.—Julian Hawthorne and Dr. W. J. Morton, sentenced by the federal court in New York to serve a year and a day each in the federal prison here for violation of the United States postal laws, will be released today. At the time they were sentenced, March 21, 1913, the court ordered that their terms should date from Nov. 12, 1912, when they were arrested.

Owing to the exemplary conduct of the prisoners, they have been given the benefit of the "good behavior" rule, which reduces their terms a month.

Prison officials last night refused to say when the prisoners will be discharged, but it is believed they will leave the penitentiary this morning.

COMMERCIALIZED VICE

UNDER RECOGNITION AND REGULATION OF POLICE DEPARTMENT STOPPED IN DETROIT

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 15.—Commercialized vice under the recognition and regulation of the police department ceased in Detroit at midnight last night. In compliance with an order issued several weeks ago by Police Commissioner Gillespie, all the resorts closed their doors and the women occupants took their departure.

According to the authorities the number of houses closed was 157. There were between 500 and 600 women inmates and of these the police believe few will risk arrest by remaining in the city.

ETTOR IN HAVERHILL

I. W. W. LEADER'S REMARKS TO BE CENSORED—NO INFLAMMATORY STATEMENTS

HAVERHILL, Oct. 15.—City Marshal John J. Mack yesterday announced that Joseph J. Ettor will not be permitted to make any inflammatory remarks this evening, when he visits this city, a public meeting of shoe-workers having been called for tonight. The meeting has been arranged by the district council of the I. W. W. and it is stated that Mr. Ettor will speak on an eight-hour day, the plans of the I. W. W. being to make the eight-hour day general.

City Marshal Mack said yesterday when he heard that the meeting had been called, that Ettor will be restricted to his subject and that policemen will be present to prevent any inflammatory remarks. Ettor will also speak at another meeting Friday evening at Vittorio Emanuele Hall on River street.

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 15.—A 30 days' notification that standardized contracts and new working agreements will be asked has been given 200 railroads west of the Mississippi, north of the Ohio and west of Chicago by representatives of their engineers and trainmen. This announcement was made here by W. T. Christy of New Orleans, chairman of the general committee of adjustment of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and Fred Barr of Houston, general chairman of the joint board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Athletes and Athletics

Jim Thorpe has made good his threat and wed. The great Indian athlete was killed well high to distraction by the Giants, but promised them all that as soon as the world's series was over he would be married. Thorpe was married yesterday to an Indian maiden who attended Carlisle while Thorpe was there. The couple will accompany the Giants on their tour of the world.

Joe Chick of Fall River and Young Jasper of Boston fought another draw last night in their 15-round go at Manchester according to the referee's decision. The crowd did not take kindly to Referee Sweeney's award as they thought that Chick should have won the decision.

Again does James E. Sullivan, president of the A. A. U., come forward with a scheme by which the amateur can be determined. This time, however, it is an international agreement which Sullivan proposes. Without a doubt the present head of amateur athletics in this country is a great man in athletics, but the facts remain that Sullivan has an abundance of enemies all over the country who stand out prominently in amateur circles. Whereas Sullivan still controls his heret it does not necessarily mean that the various clubs will take up and further his scheme, even if it is the best proposition.

Harvard men are once more agitating the graduate coaching system in their boat. It has been some time since this topic has been brought up seriously, but now it looks as though Harvard would inaugurate the system if Yale and Cornell would fall in line.

Friday night's battle at Madison Square Garden between Tommy Murphy and Packer McFarland will doubtless prove a boxing test for the New York fans. Both men have been training faithfully for the contest and although McFarland is picked to outpoint his opponent we must bear in mind what happened to Mr. Frank Klaus the other night.

It looks as though Joe Morgan of Manchester had passed his boxing zenith. While Morgan has always been a clean performer and a favorite on account of his cleverness, he has always lacked the punch in addition to a bad nose which he injures in the majority of his hard battles. A boy with nothing but a left jab cannot hope to last long in the game.

Jimmy Powers, the Boston middle distance crack, leaves this week with the team of American athletes who will compete in all the amateur events during the winter. Of course this aggregation will adhere strictly to the amateur rules and take no remuneration for any of their performances. Of course they will! What's that?

Miller Huggins, the manager of the Cardinals, has picked the following All-American baseball team: Speaker, right field; Cobb, center field; Jackson, left field; Doherty, first base; Collins, second base; Wagner, short stop; Baker or Lebert, third base; Walter Johnson, pitcher and Archer catcher.

Ralph Rose, the amateur champion with the shot, is in a San Francisco hospital, and not expected to live. He was stricken down with typhoid fever a few days ago. Rose is one of the most popular athletes who ever took his turn in any field event.

Although the writer has written to the Bull Durham people concerning the two home run clouts which Rube DeGroff slammed up against the bull, nothing has been done in the matter. It looks from here as though the Rube was going to be hung up on his brace of $50 checks.

It is rumored that McCormick, the pinch hitter of McGraw's outfit, will be at Chattanooga next season in the role of manager. Kid Eberfeld held down the job this year but was not liked by the owners. McCormick certainly knows baseball and should make a good pilot for a class AA club.

Baker, the Princeton captain and mainstay in the backfield, has shown his last season's form so far this fall and looks like another All America selection. Mahan and Brickley of Harvard will have to be put on the first eleven of the country unless they meet with accidents during the early games.

Cleveland finally won the series from Pittsburgh although seven games were necessary to decide the winner. The concluding game in this series rings the bell for 1913 baseball.

It is rumored that Manager Gray will be seen in the role of manager next season but not with the Lowell club. By the same token it is said he will not be in this league nor with a team of class B standing.

Although Owner Roach has been thinking of departing from the baseball arena for some time he has no definite plans for disposing of the Lowell club. Mr. Roach assured us early in the season that he was heartily tired of the cares and troubles of a baseball magnate but further than that he has not committed himself. Lowell fans have seen two pennant winners here since Messrs. Roach and Gray took control of the local club.

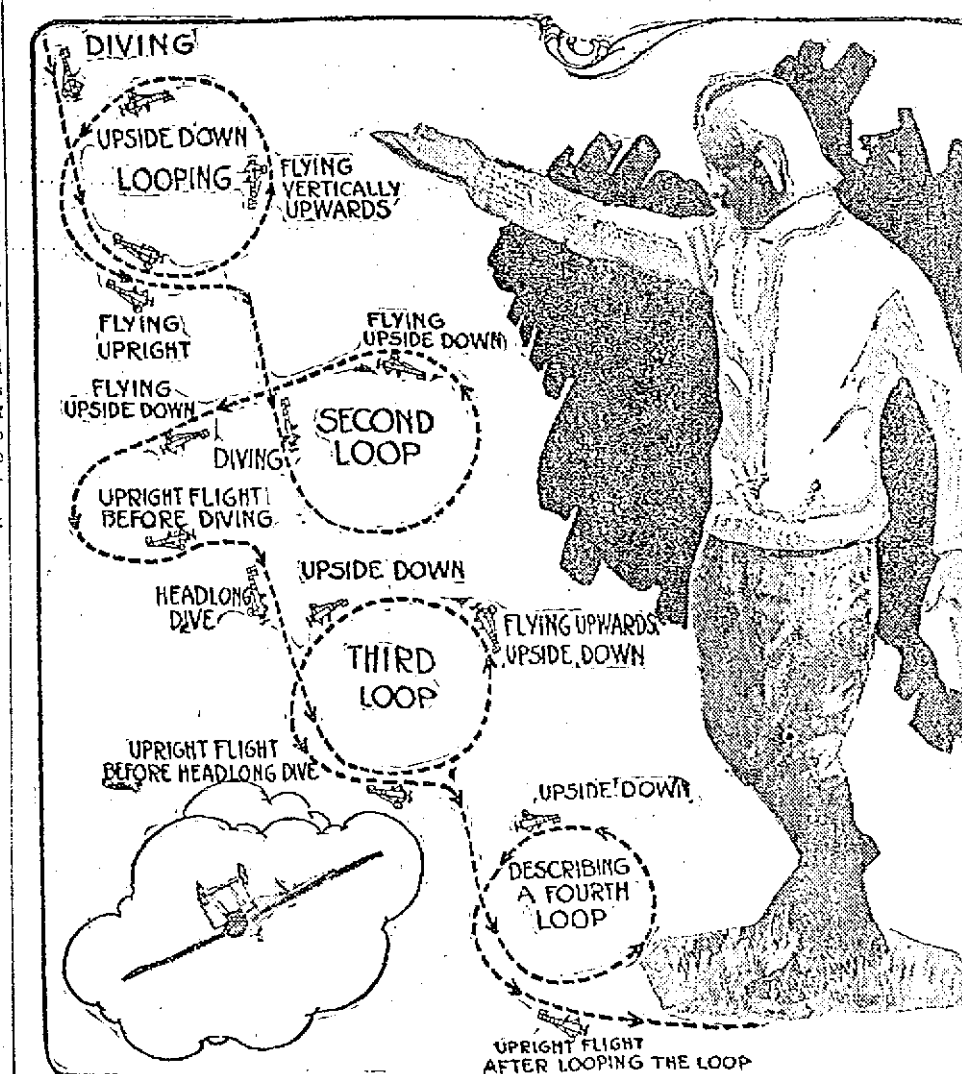

The Rindge team which defeated Lowell high here last Saturday was picked as one of the strongest school-boy aggregations in the state. Rindge will have its troubles here in both the English high and Gilmerville high games.

Ad Wolgast and Bat Nelson pulled down quite a piece of change in their Milwaukee battle. The fans of that city state that there never was such a rugged affair pulled off in their town. Milwaukee must be in a bad way for boxers when Wolgast and the Battler are looked upon as two champs.

The proposed sale of Merkle has started all sorts of rumors about who will play the first sack for the Giants next season. Big Ed Konetchy, the Cardinals first sacker, would be a great trade for McGraw to make and would be beamed upon by Big Ed Konetchy has announced that he will not play another season with St. Louis.

PEGOUDING WITH PEGOUD, AERIAL ACROBAT;
HE'S COMING TO AMERICA TO STARTLE US

PEGAUD and DIAGRAM of SOME OF HIS AMAZING FEATS

Pegoud, the marvelous human automaton of the air, is reported to be planning to amaze America with his aerial feats. This diagram is drawn in elevation—that is to say, it shows the path of flight as it appears from the side of the machine. If this page is held upright, then the diagram represents what Pegoud may be expected to do against the background of the sky. Pegoud is marvelous because he understands precisely what his machine is going to do and knows precisely how long he desires it to keep on doing the same thing. In a word, Pegoud is the perfect human automaton. Instead of controlling the machine Pegoud lets the machine control itself. He has the intelligence to eliminate himself, at the moment that the machine enters upon

WORLD'S SERIES

Ban Johnson in Favor of Prohibiting Players From Writing

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league and member of the national commission, favors the retention of the world's series games each fall in their present form.

"While I recognize many of the necessary evils of the world's series, the one big point in its favor is that it arouses tremendous interest in every city and hamlet in the nation," Johnson said last night. "This interest redounds to the benefit of baseball and our errors should be to strengthen baseball. The inter-league series with 16 clubs competing would sustain local interest but they would remove the great financial incentive for teams to win their league pennants."

The commission here, Johnson said, practically has agreed to the insertion in the uniform players' contracts of the major leagues for 1914 of a clause which will prohibit players from writing for newspapers.

SUSPECTS GONE

Mass. Police Give up Search Near Dover for Slayers of Constable

DOVER, N. H., Oct. 15.—The search for the men who attempted the Salisbury, Mass. Postoffice robbery and murdered Constable Heath was abandoned yesterday afternoon by the Massachusetts state police, who left Boston yesterday morning on train and set out from here at 6 o'clock with local officers to hunt for two suspects seen Monday afternoon on the Knox road near the Hanson woods.

Early yesterday the searchers learned that the milk house near the Newmarket station on the Portland division of the Boston & Maine was broken into Monday night by two men who are believed to have boarded a westbound night freight.

The lack of developments after the territory between here and Newmarket was thoroughly covered by the searchers, everybody interviewed being given descriptions of the men wanted and instructed to telephone the Dover police if men answering the descriptions were seen, convinced both the Massachusetts and Dover officers that the men lurking in the Hanson woods were probably those who broke into the milk shed and undoubtedly got away on a freight afterward.

The early start the searchers made yesterday in two automobile parties enabled them to visit all barns and farmhouses in the adjoining section of Madbury, Durham and Lee before the fog, if they sought shelter from the cold, would be stirring.

If they slept in the woods it was believed that the fierce sleet storm that began yesterday forenoon would have driven them to shelter, in which case they would probably have been seen and reported.

In addition to the searching parties' efforts to secure the cooperation of the farmers Chief of Police Clark had the rural mail carriers tell all persons en route of the efforts to capture the yeggs and ask them to report suspicious characters.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The famous musical comedy hit of three continents "The Quaker Girl" will be presented at the Lowell Opera House next Thursday evening, Oct. 16th, under the personal management of John P. Slocum, by arrangement with the estate of the late Henry B. Harris. An organization of thirty-six players headed by Victor Morley and including most of the original cast will be seen here. In fact, it is the No. 1 and only company producing the piece. Everyone knows by this time of "The Quaker Girl" and its stay of years in London, Paris and New York, but those who may have forgotten, it might be explained that the music is by Lionel Monckton, the book by James T. Tanner, and the lyrics by Adrian Ross and Percy Greenbank. After remaining two years in London and a year in Paris, the late Henry B. Harris was fortunate enough to secure the American rights and the result was a year's run at the Park theatre, New York, and the score is one continuous success of song hits. The most famous of which is the hitting "Come to the Ball" waltz. Seats are now selling.

MERIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Dion Boucicault's great southern drama, "The Octoroon," which is being presented by the Merimack Square theatre players this week is richly classed as one of the most interesting of its kind that the stage has produced in years. The story is very cleverly woven about the principal character "Zoe," a beautiful young woman, the unfortunate victim of the its appointed task. He flies it with the utmost skill to the desired altitude, he turns it head downward toward the earth, he drops like a stone until he has acquired the momentum necessary to effect his purpose, and then he calmly and deliberately pushes forward his elevator lever, and sits still while the machine fattens out on its back. Pegoud is always on the outside of the circle. Even when he loops the loop he himself is on the outside of the circle. Pegoud is shown here as he was snapped after one of his acrobatic stunts. He was explaining his process of air tumbling to an amazed circle of admiring friends.

slaves laws of the south during the middle of the past century. As "Zoe," Miss Young appears to particular advantage in all of the six acts and she receives the support of an excellent cast, including Walter Scott Weeks, John Charles, Jack Hayden and others. Howard Sydney, stage director, reflects his superior ability in directing each act in a way that adds materially to the success of the presentation. The photo-plays that are shown before the act are of the same high standard that has characterized this feature of the entertainment in the past.

KENTON THEATRE

"The Movies," which is being presented at the B. F. Keith's theatre, this week, is a very timely take-off on the latest fad for motion pictures. A procession of familiar types are shown, not the least impressive being the dopey piano player of the establishment, played splendidly by Jack Van Epps, the rouser, acted by Ralph J. Locke, the ticket seller and illustrated song singer, Roberta Taylor's contribution to the gallery, and others. The act goes on in three big scenes, the grand climactic being reached during the presentation of the enraging "Allum drammer," "For Love's Sweet Sake." Rae Eleanor Ball, violinist, gives a lot of real pleasure to lovers of violin music. Other acts on the bill are: Classy trio, singers and instrumentalists; Knickerbocker trio, singers; Silent Mora, Arminta & Burke, "The Crazy Recruit," and the Patchy waltz. Good seats in advance. Phone 28.

FOOTBALL PLAYER INJURED

SUFFIELD, Conn., Oct. 15.—Frank Thompson of Warehouse Point, right tackle on the Connecticut Littery institute eleven who was injured in a football game a day or two ago, is suffering from concussion of the brain, it was stated today. He was struck on the back of the neck during a line plunge and rendered unconscious. The physicians say he is now out of danger.

MACK AND WOOD ACTIVE

Bay Wood, the "fighting Frenchman" from Fall River, will meet a real aggressive performer in Frankie Mack of Beachmont at the Lowell A. C. Friday night. Mack is a very clever and carries a good wallop in each hand. His great bout here a few weeks ago with K. O. Sweeney of New York will be remembered as one of the features of the season.

Sweeney came here with a record most formidable, and with sentiment wholly in his favor. He stumbled against a great bout in Mack, who gave Sweeney the first defeat in a remarkable ring career.

Wood is fast, too, and indications point to a great bout. A semi-final and two good preliminaries are also on the program.

FOOTBALL TOO BRUTAL MILLER LOSES ON FOUL

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—"American college football is altogether too brutal," said Prince Madakine Cale of Zululand, who as been studying the game while the guest of the family of Robert Storer, captain of the Harvard varsity football team. The prince expressed the intention of introducing a milder form of the game into his country, as well as baseball and basketball.

Prince Cale is here to raise money for the establishment of an industrial and trade school in Zululand and to take back a bride.

Next week he will marry Miss Julia Smith, a student at the Hampton Institute in Virginia.

ROSS WAS HIT LOW IN THIRD ROUND AND MILLER DISQUALIFIED

Charley Miller, the "Frisco motor-man," lost his brake handle at the Boston club last night in his bout with Tony Ross, the Pennsylvania heavy-weight, and could not stop a blow which caught his opponent well below the belt in the third round of what was scheduled to be a twelve round bout. Ross was injured so badly that he was forced to quit and the battle was awarded to him on a foul.

Up to the time that the bout ended both men had hit low and each had been warned by the referee. Ross appeared to be the more aggressive of the two although Miller landed two stiff right swings to the jaw in the third session which shook up his opponent and had him slightly dazed.

LIND TO LEAVE MEXICO

U. S. Sends Sharp Note to Huerta —Amazed at His Action—No Further Negotiations Planned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The United States government yesterday informed Provisional President Victoriano Huerta that it looked with abhorrence and amazement upon his assumption of both executive and legislative powers in Mexico and that in view of his course, could not regard as constitutional the elections planned for October 26.

Two notes, the one strongly phrased and written by Secretary Bryan, inquiring about the safety of the imprisoned members of the Mexican congress, and the other drawn in forceful language by President Wilson himself, are said to constitute practically the last efforts of the Washington government to deal with the Huerta authorities by the diplomatic means, unless there is a decided change of spirit on the part of the officials in Mexico City.

The negotiations through John Lind had progressed to the point where the United States department accepted the endorsement of Frederick Carrigan for the presidency as meaning the elimination of Huerta, and where it was confidently hoped that a fair and free election would be held on October 26. Now, however, President Wilson has made it clear that the Washington government had with the events of the last few days—the imprisonment of the deputies and the establishment of a dictatorship by Huerta—lost all hope of seeing a constitutional election held by the Huerta regime.

The step taken by the United States was formally communicated to all foreign governments. No further negotiations are planned through diplomatic channels and it would not be surprising if John Lind, who has been waiting at Vera Cruz to observe the manner in which the Huerta officials carried out their promises should return to the United States at once. Huerta decrees proclaiming himself as in charge of the department of interior, administration, finance and war were received here yesterday and the text given out at the state department. The documents were read at yesterday's cabinet meeting and members of the cabinet expressed themselves as astonished at the audacity of General Huerta. They were appalled by the nature of the two communications sent to Gen. Huerta through Charge O'Shaughnessy and all voiced approval of the vigorous representations. The cabinet meeting was about to adjourn when press dispatches announced that Senor Querido Moreno, Mexican minister of foreign affairs, had characterized the American communications as "intemperate."

Official Washington last night awaited the formal reply being drafted by the Huerta administration. Charge O'Shaughnessy reported that he had conveyed both communications and had been assured with respect to the imprisoned deputies that no violence would be done them, but that they would be tried for sedition.

It is the second note of the American government, which is said to be only 150 words in length, practically breaking off negotiations with Huerta which is believed to have prompted Foreign Minister Moreno's description "intemperate." Administration officials held that with most of the members of the Mexican congress in jail, a prominent member of congress dared to speak adversely to the Huerta administration still mysterious, y concealed and the congress dissolved.

DICKERMAN & McQUADE

Brazer's Corner
Markel and Central Sts.

It is impossible for the civilized world to believe that the Huerta group was capable of establishing or maintaining constitutional authority in the southern republic. They also feel that the Huerta officials are no longer deserving of such diplomatic relations as have hitherto existed.

As yet there is no concrete evidence that the Washington administration intends to use drastic measures. The White House has discouraged the heads of the army and navy from taking any steps that would give an alarmist impression.

Some officials said they would not be surprised if the failure of the Huerta government to comply with promises made to John Lind would cause the Washington administration to consider throwing its support to the constitutionalists in the north of Mexico. This might mean with it a lifting of the embargo of arms and many senators think the constitutionalists would soon triumph if they had such assistance. President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have hitherto opposed such a step but informal communication within the last two weeks with the constitutionalists has indicated that the Washington administration is scrutinizing the leaders of the constitutionalist movement to determine what are their purposes and whether they could establish constitutional authority in Mexico.

It is confidently expected here that foreign governments generally will follow in the lead of the United States in whatever steps are taken. Today, incidentally, Henry Lane Wilson's resignation as ambassador to Mexico went into effect.

NIGHT SESSIONS

Committee Determined to Finish the Currency Controversy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—If necessary, the senate banking and currency committee will hold night sessions to hear all witnesses listed to discuss the administration currency bill in order to close the hearings Oct. 25. The committee yesterday revised its list of witnesses and agreed to hear H. Parker Willis, who acted as expert to the house committee during consideration of the bill, National Bank Examiner Starek, in charge of bank examinations in New York; representatives of the national chamber of commerce and a delegation of country bankers from Minnesota. In addition to witnesses already scheduled. When the hearings are closed the bill will be taken up for amendment.

The committee worked late last evening getting the views of country bankers on the bill.

THE EATON HOME

Inspected by Jury Empanelled to Try Widow of Admiral

PLYMOUTH, Oct. 15.—Spectators, barred yesterday because the big panel of talesmen occupied all the seats, thronged today to the courtroom to watch the real start of the trial of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton for the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton.

Today's court proceedings lasted less than 35 minutes. The session began at 9 a. m. with District Attorney Barker outlining to the jury the location of the different rooms in the Eaton house at Assinippi and the relative positions of the various buildings on the premises.

Shortly after 9:30 o'clock court adjourned until tomorrow. The jurors, in charge of deputy sheriffs and accompanied by counsel for the commonwealth and defendant left immediately for Assinippi on a special trolley car. It was expected that the inspection of the premises would consume the greater part of the day.

MRS. EATON WATCHED THE SELECTION OF JURY WHICH WILL SIT ON CASE

PLYMOUTH, Oct. 15.—The 12 jurors before whom Mrs. Jennie May Eaton will be tried on the charge of murdering by poisoning her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton at Assinippi last March, were chosen yesterday in the superior court.

The defendant showed the liveliest interest in the proceedings as she watched the rapid sifting of the one hundred and more talesmen who were examined yesterday. Just before the regular hour of adjournment, Eugene L. Dunham, a shoe worker of Middleboro, was chosen as juror No. 12.

Chief Justice Aiken appointed Jas. A. Thomas, a millwright of Middleboro, aged 64, as foreman and the court adjourned until this morning.

The jury is as follows:

J. Ellsworth Dunham, shoe worker, Abington.

Henry C. Chandler, laborer, Duxbury.

James A. Thomas, millwright, Middleboro.

Seneca T. Weston, farmer, Middleboro.

Charles S. Tinkham, shoe worker, Middleboro.

GOV. FOSS WILL RUN

Attached His Name to Nomination Papers as an Independent Candidate, Making Seven in All

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—Nomination papers for Governor Foss were filed at 4:18 yesterday afternoon by Private Secretary George Harlow. The papers bore 1697 names, were marked "Independent" and were certified to by the governor in five places.

This is the first independent nomination for governor since 1907, when General Charles W. Bartlett was a candidate, after being ruled out of the democratic ticket by the ballot law commission.

The governor has until Friday night to withdraw them if he wishes. The time is 5 o'clock. But both Secretaries Sherman and Harlow say positively that he will not withdraw them. Mr. Harlow announced that tonight the governor would open his campaign with an address before the state board of trade convention at Norwood Central.

The governor is on his way home from Indianapolis, where he has been attending a convention of the American Prison Association, before which he spoke on Monday upon the reform of prison systems. The feature of his address there was an attack upon the partisan administration of Massachusetts prisons.

The filing of the governor's papers was not a surprise to the politicians. At the democratic state committee the prediction was made by Secretary O'Leary that the effect would be to increase the size of Mr. Walsh's vote. Lieutenant-Governor Walsh himself, when reached by telephone, declined to comment upon the governor's candidacy, and Congressman Gardner, who spoke in Cambridge last night, would not discuss it.

There are now seven candidates for governor. They are: Charles Sumner Bird of Walpole, progressive; Alfred H. Evans of Northampton, prohibition.

Eugene N. Foss of Boston, independent; Augustus P. Gardner of Hamilton, republican; Arthur E. Rehner of Boston, socialist labor; David I. Walsh of Fitchburg, democratic; George H. Wrenn of Springfield, socialist.

THE LOCAL REGISTRY

Those who had occasion to visit the court house in Gorham street today noticed with pleasure that the remodeling of the registry department is practically complete. The new glass door and partitions which have been moved forward some distance in order to enlarge the space occupied by the registry of deeds, is finished, and as one enters the Gorham street door of the building, a more symmetrical appearance is noted.

Previous to the work of remodeling, there was a long entrance hallway to the record room and office of the registry, and it was decided on recommendations of Mr. William Purcell, to convert this hall into an added room, by enlarging the door into the smaller office on the right hand side of the southern hallway, and moving the counter into the space made by the broadening of the entrance. What was formerly a partition dividing the office from the hall and containing two small doors, was made into a great arch and in this the wooden counter has been placed. In place but for a short time as a new steel counter is to be installed.

By the new arrangement, the registry is greatly benefited, having much more room for its record vaults, tables, etc., and greater convenience for the carrying on of its daily business. By means of the great arch and larger counter space, congestion is avoided, and there is no crowding when a large number appear at the department.

On the left as one enters from Gorham street is the room for the uncontested probate sessions, reached by means of a short hallway. This now corresponds in symmetry with the registry since the entrance to the latter has by the remodeling been moved forward until it is the same distance from the main entrance as is the probate court room. Thus, what was formerly a hallway, has been added to the space devoted to the department of the registry of deeds.

The work required considerable time and owing to the strong structure of the walls, etc., of the interior of the building, was attended by some little difficulty. It included the removing of large partitions and the building of an additional partition for the entrance. It also to some extent hampered the work of the department, owing to the noise, and general inconvenience which it caused. With the progress thus far made, the work will be completed in a short time. It is

HUGE BOND ISSUE

Public Utilities Commission Indorses New Haven Financing Plan

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—The proposed $67,000,000 New Haven bond issue was late yesterday afternoon approved by the Massachusetts public service commission, four of the five members signing the majority report. A vigorous minority opinion signed by the fifth member, George W. Anderson, severely condemns the action of the board, calls the huge bond issue an example of "director-banker mismanagement," and characterizes the legalization of the issue as "the supreme arrogance" on the part of the commission.

The commission also authorizes the issue of 670,000 shares of stock at par, to meet the convertible feature of the issue, which takes effect after five years and within 25 years, at the option of the holders.

An appeal from the decision in the form of prayer for an injunction from the supreme court restraining the railroad from issuing the bonds will, it is believed, be made by the minority stockholders who appeared in opposition to the issue. Neither Morgan G. Bulkeley, former governor of Connecticut, who led the remonstrants at the public hearings, nor his chief counsel, James F. Jackson, would make any statement last night, however, on the question of an appeal.

"I can't say anything until I have read the decision," said Mr. Bulkeley over the phone last night. Mr. Jackson declared that till there had been a meeting of the counsel to discuss the matter he, also, could make no statement.

It is pointed out, however, that the majority decision, by deciding the legal questions involved without argument, and stating that it felt it to be its duty to leave the legal discussion to the courts, had in effect invited an appeal leading to a judicial decision. Commissioner Anderson gives as his reason for his adverse vote that he believes the issue to be against the law, outside the legal powers of the commission, and in the face of the decision of the Massachusetts supreme court in 1908.

The majority report, signed by Commissioners Fred J. Macleod, George W. Bishop, Clinton White and Everett E. Stone, adopted most of the arguments made before the board by counsel for the railroad and for the stockholders' protective committee.

The intention of the authorities to install all steel furniture in both the record room and the other office. At present the wooden chairs, tables, etc., are being re-varnished. In the record room there is still a good deal of wooden equipment, including writing tables, but again, much steel furniture has been installed.

During the work of remodeling, the small rooms on the left of what was formerly the approach, were used for the registry, and a temporary counter was installed. In a short time, the department will be conducting its daily business over a steel counter in the enlarged room where the arch has been constructed, and other important improvements and additions will have been made.

NEW STEAMSHIP LINES

MUST BE ESTABLISHED IN BOSTON TO COMPETE WITH OTHER ATLANTIC PORTS

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—If Boston is to compete successfully with New York and other Atlantic ports in the new trade to be opened up by the Panama canal three new steamship lines from here to Latin-American points must be established in the opinion of John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American union. Mr. Barrett, addressing the Boston Credit Men's association last night, said that one of these lines should run to the chief ports on the east coast of South America and the other two should send steamers through the canal to the west coast of Central and South America.

"The United States," he added, "is face to face with what is perhaps the most difficult problem in its history and must look to it that, having built the Panama canal the nations of Europe do not secure the greater portion of the commerce made possible by it."

An unusually large number of berries remain on the vines, the bad weather of the past ten days having necessitated the suspension of harvesting operations.

HELPLESS IN GALE
Doctor, Wife and Friend Drifted All Night in Storm

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—Dr. and Mrs. Henry Hawkins of 397 Marlboro street, Back Bay, and Lester M. Livingston of Dorchester, who were out in a 40-foot boat all Monday night and most of yesterday, were located just before dusk last night, their craft moored in the Back river at Weymouth.

The party, when it started from the South Boston Yacht club on Monday morning in the Nevela, owned and sailed by Dr. Hawkins, numbered about 15. They left the yacht club and headed toward the West Way. Just as darkness was falling Dr. Hawkins sailed into Quincy bay, and put a shore except his wife, and his friend himself.

He sailed out into the West Way again toward Long Island, and was headed for the yacht club at South Boston, when a sudden puff of wind blew his sails away, broke his mast and left him helpless with a strong northwest gale blowing up.

Mrs. Hawkins became frightened at between signalling for help and trying to console his wife, Dr. Hawkins became exhausted. He was out in the cockpit of the boat all night in the blinding gale and snow storm.

Daylight broke, and with it the storm grew worse, and he finally gave up as it was impossible to see through the gale in the West Way.

Toward noon he again attempted to place signals, but they failed to work. The craft finally drifted into the Back river, where the doctor dropped anchor.

JOHN A. WEINBECK WAS RE-ELECTED

Vain Attempt to Oust Him as Treasurer of Middlesex North

James J. McManmon Defeated by a Vote of 11 to 4

George W. Trull at the Helm for Another Year

GEORGE W. TRULL President

At the annual meeting of the Middlesex North Agricultural society, held yesterday afternoon in Odd Fellows' building, Centralville, John A. Weinbeck was re-elected treasurer. There was some opposition to Mr. Weinbeck and James J. McManmon was pitted against him for the office of treasurer. The vote was 11 to 4 in favor of Mr. Weinbeck.

BUREAU OF EDUCATION

Uses Corn Campaign in Philippines — Director of Education is Very Enthusiastic

In discussing general Philippine conditions before a distinguished audience in one of the great universities of this country a few months ago a lecturer, in referring to the school system there, spoke of it as constituting the "greatest primary school system in the world," not in respect of great number of pupils in attendance nor in respect of great amounts of money expended, but great in that it meets the needs of the people and is instrumental in bringing about decidedly better economic and social conditions among them.

The thirteenth annual report of the director of education of the Philippines which has just reached the bureau of insular affairs at Washington and covers the activities of the bureau of education for the year 1912-13 shows that the work is on a most satisfactory basis, that it is giving to the Philippine people a form of education new to the tropics and one which is substantially modern in every respect and that it can be depended upon to assist very materially in the realization of the best hopes of the Philippine people.

The director reports that a very steady and encouraging advance has been made during the past year. This marked advance is shown in the higher standard of the instruction in English, in the better school buildings and grounds becoming available, in the sounder basis on which industrial instruction has been organized, in the further and very marked improvement in the American and Filipino personnel connected with the work of the bureau, in the notable improvement in the efficiency of the administrative side of the work and in the effectiveness with which the program for the physical training of the pupils enrolled in the public schools is becoming operative.

Notwithstanding the fact that the total enrollment for the past year has been somewhat less than that for the preceding year the percentage of attendance has increased from 83 to 87 per cent, thus by the increase in regularity of attendance in part compensating for the smaller number of pupils for whom school facilities were available.

Directorate and Teachers

There was no change in the directorate of the bureau during the past year. However, the director himself was absent a greater part of the year on leave in the United States thus leaving the first assistant in direct charge.

With the elimination of those American teachers whose services for one reason or another have been unsatisfactory the director believes that it would be difficult to find a more efficient force than that at present in the service of the bureau. The teachers secured from the United States have been almost without exception of splendid character and excellent preparation. This has been possible because of the greater interest taken in the United States in the work of the Philippine bureau of education.

While the quality of the American teaching force has advanced very materially that of the Filipino teacher has kept pace and great advancement in their attainments and ability to teach in schools. Filipino teachers have been assigned to positions of greater responsibility as rapidly as possible and now 115 are serving as supervising and assistant supervising teacher which number does not include 21 Filipino industrial supervisors.

Courses of Study

The courses of study have been slightly modified during the past year. The changes made have been in the direction of simplification.

Conditions in the Philippines demand early specialization. In the prescribed course of study this specialization is introduced in the first year of the intermediate courses—of which six are provided. The general course, the course for teaching, the course in farming, the course in housekeeping and household arts and the course in business. To delay specialization until the secondary course is reached would result in sending out from the public schools the vast majority of the pupils without any special preparation to fit them for useful careers in the more or less humble stations in life to which the majority of this or any other country must be confined. It is planned to establish at least one school offering the course in farming in each division. At present six such schools are in operation, while one additional school offers more extensive instruction in agriculture.

There are 250 intermediate schools offering the general course; 26 the housekeeping and household arts course; 49 the teaching course; 40 the trade course; 6 the farming course; and two the course in business.

Insular Schools

All of the insular schools which include the Philippine Normal school, the Philippine School of Arts and Trades, the Philippine School of Household Industries, the Philippine School of Commerce and the Philippine School of Blind, are fulfilling the purposes for which they were established and are turning out large numbers of young men and women every year to take conspicuous places in community activities.

In connection with the Philippine carnival, held in Manila, February 1-5, inclusive, a Far Eastern Olympiad was held in which China, Japan and the Philippines took part. The majority of the contestants representing the Philippines were school boys. In track, field and general athletic events the Philippines were victorious. Japan won the baseball championship. It is difficult to overestimate the significance of this series of games. It may be truthfully said that athletics in the public schools made such an international contest possible.

The Corn Campaign

The corn campaign conducted by the bureau of education was the most important of the special features of the work of the past school year. Two contests were arranged, one for the production of the best ears of corn, and the other for the production of the most corn on a given area. In addition to this, demonstrations were given in practically all of the municipalities of the islands in the use of corn as a human food. The campaign received the enthusiastic support of the people and officials alike, and has resulted in an immense amount of good in disseminating knowledge of the most advanced methods of corn production and the use of corn as human food.

Industrial Instruction

The program for industrial instruction for the public schools has been carefully worked out and includes most of the important Philippine industrial activities. It covers seven years of work—the four years of the primary course, and the three years of intermediate course—and provides instruction in agriculture, domestic science, needle work in its various forms, weaving of Philippine fibers, and work in wood, iron and clay. No provision is made for passing pupils through the primary and intermediate grades without some industrial instruction. Specialization along one of six lines is begun at once in the intermediate grades.

The director's report shows that during the past year 12,358 boys were taking the trade and shop work; that 10,648 boys were engaged in gardening and farming; 12,953 girls were taking the gardening work; and that 53,123 girls were studying housekeeping and household arts. Among other crafts and industries we find 12,353 girls learning lace making; 12,825 embroidery; 6,659 cooking; 10,456 boys and 3,031 girls making hats; 29,527 pupils were studying mat making; and 12,835 working on baskets.

placed on display 23,305 units of work worth $28,591.62 of which $20,054.76 worth was sold. This exhibit not only gave to the thousands of people who saw it an idea of the industrial work done by the public schools, but also gave to many Filipinos their first definite idea of the industrial and agricultural possibilities of their country. The profits of the work, a large part of which went to the pupils themselves, further served to show them where they may direct their energies most profitably.

It is believed that the instruction given by the bureau of education has contributed largely to the increase in the exportation of embroideries from the islands from $9,885 worth in 1911 to $127,500 in 1912 and $185,455 worth during the fiscal year 1913.

Finances

Aside from the appropriations for school house construction there was expended for the schools in the Philippines during the past fiscal year the sum of $2,130,915.68. Of this amount over one-half came from insular sources and the remainder was appropriated by provincial and municipal governments. The federal government appropriated nothing for the support of schools in the Philippines, as in fact the United States makes no appropriation for the support of civil government in the islands in any of its branches.

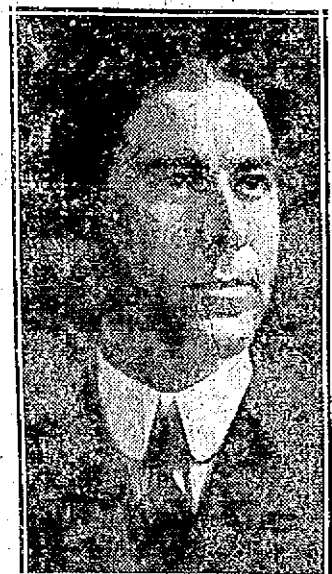

The cost of education per capita of total population during the past year was $0.42 while the cost per pupil, based on the average monthly enrollment, was $9.49.

Completely Cured When Three Years of Other Treatments Did No Good

June 14, 1913.—"Four years ago I developed a bad case of eczema on my face which was not only bad to look at, but extremely annoying by reason of burning and itching. It was in very large sores, looked almost like boils."

"As soon as the disease healed a trifle in one place—always leaving the skin dark—it appeared in another, getting worse as it advanced. After three years' treatment it grew no better, until I found Resinol. I used both Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, and after two months not a trace of the eczema remained." ## Important Discussions at Fall Meeting of the Board of Trade Directors Last Night

The annual fall meeting of the directors of the Lowell board of trade was held last night in the rooms in the Central building. The meeting was for the purpose of discussing plans for furtherance and improving of the work of the board for the coming year, and the session was preceded by a banquet. The speaking was wholly informal, and the men present were agreed that the meeting was the best that has been held in some time.

The following directors were in attendance: George M. Harrigan, Harry Dunlap, Rev. C. H. Williams, John H. Murphy, Arthur W. Saunders, Hon. Edward Fisher of Westford, Daniel F. Carroll, Milo D. Clay, George H. Taylor, Hon. James E. O'Donnell, Irving D. Kimball, Walter E. Guretta, Daniel W. Shannahan, Frank Ricard, Harvey B. Greene, Judge F. A. Fisher, Patrick O'Hearn, Alonzo G. Walsh, R. F. Madden, C. H. Nelson, Lawrence Cummings.

During the evening numerous and valuable suggestions were made for betterment of various conditions of the city, and plans were introduced for increased activity of the board of trade, which it carried out as intended, with regard to Lowell's advantages.

His Honor, Mayor James E. O'Donnell was prominent among those who gave expression to their ideas relative to the public good. Among other things he urged that the board of trade request another public market hearing. On the occasion of the last hearing, too little interest was displayed on the part of the citizens, although the farmers appeared and requested a public market where they could sell to the retailer, and not to the consumer. He emphasized the benefit of a public market where producers sell directly to the consumer. He believed that another hearing should take place and a real discussion be held concerning the matter.

Mayor O'Donnell also recommended action toward the immediate erection of a public hall which he believed is most necessary which he said should be in the central portion of the city. He also protested against the allowing of unsightly fences to remain along the canal banks.

Mr. Harvey B. Greene responded to President Harrigan's call for suggestions with a proposal regarding the trees of the city. Mr. Greene is chairman of the City Beautiful committee and he spoke concerning the planting of trees throughout the city, dwelling on the ineffectual attempts of the past along this line. He suggested that the proposed park department nursery be used as far as possible in the matter and that the board of trade contribute $50 to the purchasing and planting of shade trees in the school yards about the city. He said that the school yards will later be the only places where shade trees may be successfully planted. He proposed planting trees on one street without charge as an example to the people. Trees, he said, should be planted in the yards rather than in the gutters.

In this matter, Mayor seconded Mr. Greene, adding that first of all, the attention of the members of the board, and of the people of the city in general should be directed toward the doing away with overhead wires in the streets. He spoke of the numerous protests against pole locations, but the city council has not yet received general support from the citizens in the matter of obtaining relief from poles and wires in the streets.

Mr. Robert F. Marlen spoke for the highway committee, and for the membership committee. He said the work on highways is progressing most satisfactorily. He urged an increase of the membership of the board of trade to strengthen the organization. In this he was seconded by President Harrigan. There are now 750 members and the number should reach 1000. To this end a membership campaign will be started about November 1.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS HELD

By Lowell Courts of French American
Foresters

J. H. GUILLET

C. M. A. C. hall in Pawtucket street last night was the scene of a pretty gathering, the occasion being a joint installation of the recently elected officers of the three local courts of the French American Foresters, Courts Blanche de Castille, Samuel de Champlain and St. Louis. Despite the inclement weather the hall, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, was filled to its utmost and after 8 o'clock standing room was all that was available. A fine entertainment program was carried out and there were speeches galore, among the speakers being Rev. J. H. Guillet, O. M. I., Ph. D., pastor of St. Joseph's parish; Rev. Leon Lamothe, O. M. I., pastor of Notre Dame de Lourdes and Rev. J. B. Labossiere, pastor of St. Louis; J. H. Guillet, Esq., supreme chief forester of the order, and several others.

The meeting was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock by Supreme Chief Forester J. H. Guillet, who in a brief address explained the purpose of the gathering. He complimented the new officers who were to be ushered into office, and then reviewed the progress of the French American Foresters since the order was founded, a few years ago. He told of the work of the various courts all over New England and also gave interesting figures concerning the financial condition of the order. Lawyer Guillet concluded by making an appeal to all French speaking people of this city, men and women to join the grand order and he also urged the present members to do their utmost in the recruiting line.

The next speaker was Rev. Leon Lamothe, O. M. I., supreme spiritual adviser of the order, who dwelt at length on the good to be derived from such an organization as the French American Foresters, for he said it was a Catholic mutual end benefit organization. Rev. J. H. Guillet, O. M. I., Ph. D., and Rev. J. B. Labossiere spoke on the same principles, and the three clergymen urged the members of their stock to gather under the banner of the French American Foresters.

At the conclusion of the addresses the entire gathering sang "Vive la France" and "La Revendication," and these chorus selections were followed by several piano solos by Miss Irene Parthenais. The meeting closed with the installation ceremony, Supreme Chief Guillet presiding, assisted by Messrs. Arthur Lavole, F. N. Ricci and Henri Chaput.

LOCAL MEN BACK

From the Convention of
Y.M.H.A. Held in Providence, R. I.

President F. J. Greenberg, Vice-President Samuel Smith and Secretary-Treasurer Sigmund E. Rostler of the Young Men's Hebrew association of this city, returned yesterday from the Y. M. H. A. convention held in Providence.

The convention was the third annual held by this association and over 450 delegates and alternates from different parts of New England were present. The session yesterday was a long one. Definite action was taken on most of the matters which had been recommended in the joint report of President Abraham H. Klubock and Sec. Max H. Rebeck. During the day there were also meetings of various committees and following these the statement was made that the association was in most promising condition. The closing business was the selection of Lawrence as the next convention city. The election of officers was lively as there were many candidates for the different offices, particularly for membership on the executive board. The officers elected were: President, A. H. Klubock of Chelsea; first vice-president, Max Ulin of East Boston; second vice-president, Benjamin Shoshman; third vice-president, Samuel Barnett; secretary, Max H. Rebeck; treasurer, Samuel Astoroff.

A feature of the convention this year was the presence of the members of the Young Women's Hebrew association and they entertained on several different occasions. The ball held Monday night in Infantry hall was also a big success and there were nearly 1500 people present. Before the adjournment of the convention the delegates expressed their gratitude for the splendid entertainment they were accorded at the hands of the Providence association.

DELAY SULZER TRIAL

High Court of Impeachment in Executive Session Throughout Morning—No Agreement

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The high court of impeachment which is trying Gov. Sulzer recessed for lunch shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon after having been in executive session throughout the morning endeavoring to arrive at a decision whether article 4 of the impeachment shall be amended or the assembly shall be asked to provide additional articles to include the testimony offered by Messrs. Peck and Morgenthau.

The failure of the court to reach an agreement upon this question was productive of many rumors. One was that a majority of the court of appeals had reached a decision to vote this afternoon on sending the testimony in question to the assembly as the basis for the new article on the ground that to amend article 4 would be unconstitutional. Many of the senators, however, strongly opposed this action it was said.

A rumor that an injunction had been served on the state treasurer to prevent him from paying the judges their daily salaries, caused a flurry in the capitol today. Inquiry developed that some voter who was not in accord with the proceedings had written a letter to a state official demanding such action.

part of the day. If a young man wanted to learn auto repairing, for instance, he would not be admitted unless he was employed in that line of business.

It was feared by some that this condition of affairs would hold in the day industrial school and in order that there might be no misunderstanding about it The Sun asked Principal Fisher about the matter this morning.

"No, indeed, that does not hold good in the day school," said Mr. Fisher. "We teach trades during the day because we have time enough at our disposal, but the best we can do in the evening is to assist men in their trades. It would take thirty-five years to teach a man a trade from beginning to end in the evening school."

This restriction, however, does not apply to the girls' department in the evening industrial school.

Loomfixers Tonight
Mr. Fisher announced today that the only class open tonight would be the loomfixers and that other classes would recite Thursday and Friday as scheduled. The other classes include plumbing, electricity, carpentry and machine shop work. The picketing and carding class will not start until some time next week.

Going to the storm last evening the opening was postponed till Thursday evening.

DEFENDS TARIFF LAW
UNDERWOOD SAYS 5 PER CENT. CLAUSE IS NOT SO DRASTIC AS PAINE-ALDRICH PROVISION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Representative Underwood, an early White House caller today defended the five per cent clause of the tariff law giving a discount to imports in American ships by declaring it was merely a return to the democratic doctrine of Madison and Jefferson and would rehabilitate the American merchant marine.

"I am not hunting a trade war," said Mr. Underwood, "but the president has the right to cancel any trade agreements that we have that may conflict with this provision. The five per cent clause is not nearly so drastic as the maximum provision of the Paine-Aldrich law."

Thomas Ring Took a Bottle of Whiskey to Moving Picture Show

Thomas Ring came to Lowell a few days ago to have a good time and indulged himself in what he considered mostly went toward happiness, red liquor. Thomas, however, did not appear in a happy frame of mind this morning when he faced Judge Enright on the charge of drunkenness.

Officer Mahan, who made the arrest, related to the court just what manner of customer the defendant is when under the influence of alcoholic beverages. It seems that he headed for a theatre last evening with a bottle of whiskey snugly concealed about his person. Whether, or not the moving picture which was being run at the time portrayed a desert or other similarly dry place, was not divulged, but certain it is that Thomas grew very thirsty during the entertainment and belabored himself of the bottle.

The officer testified that the defendant was informed that he was not an exactly desirable member of the audience, but that Ring was in an argumentative mood and insisted that he remain and watch the rest of the performance. His insistence took such a violent turn that Officer Mahan finally arrested him and took him to the station.

ROYAL WEDDING IN LONDON TODAY

Prince Arthur of Connaught Weds Princess Alexandra

Married in the Ancient Chapel of St. James Palace

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Prince Arthur of Connaught, son of the governor-general of Canada and Princess Alexandra, Duchess of Fife, eldest daughter of the widow Princess Royal, today were married in the ancient chapel of St. James palace, where both of them had been baptized.

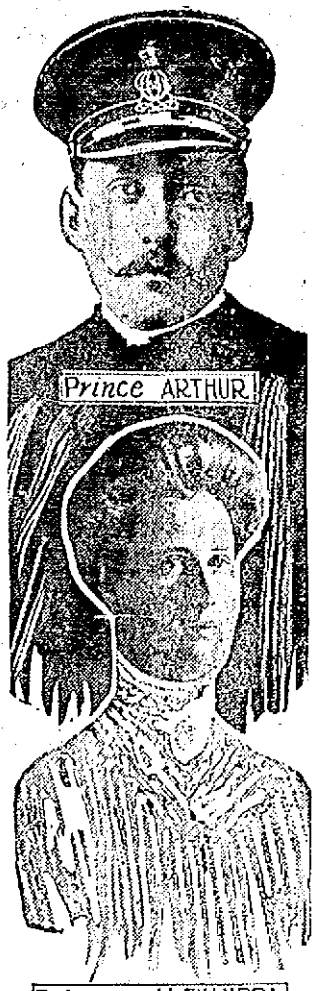

There was room for less than 100 in the simple, though daintily decorated chapel, but not since the coronation of King George had there been such a gathering of royalties and notable personages as on this occasion. Besides King George and Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandra, the king and queen of Norway and other royal relatives of the couple to the number of a score or more, the congregation consisted of members of the diplomatic corps, of the British government and of the royal households and of a few distinguished persons who had been especially honored.

Among the diplomats were Ambassador Walter Hines Page, dressed in plain evening clothes and the only person there who wore neither a decoration nor a uniform.

Among the ladies who had received special invitations were Lady Decies, formerly Miss Helen Vivian Gould and Miss Anne Breeze, both of whom were accompanied by their husbands and wore their famous jewels.

The chapel in fact glittered with diamonds and pearls, almost every woman present wearing a tiara and necklace, each of fabulous value.

Lord and Lady Strathcona and Mount Royal and Lord and Lady Mount Stephen also were among the very few to whom invitations had been issued.

The bride who entered the chapel between King George and her mother looked charming in a dainty dress of white, charming, embroidered with pearls and diamonds and adorned with exquisite Brussels applique lace of which the bridal veil also was made. The five bridesmaids were Princess Mary, daughter of the king and queen, Princess Maud, only sister of the bride, Princess Victoria and Princess Helena of Teck, daughters of the Duke and Duchess of Teck and Princess Mary, the little daughter of Prince and Princess Alexandra of Teck. Their frocks were made of delicate shell pink champagne and cream lace and they carried beautiful clusters of carnations and lilies, the same covers as decorated the chapel royal.

The pages were little Prince John, the king's youngest son and Prince Olaf of Norway.

Prince Arthur wore his uniform as a captain of the Royal Scots Greys with its bright scarlet tunic and high breastplate and all the men among his royal relatives also wore military uniforms covered with decorations. The king was dressed as a field marshal. The queens and other ladies wore in beautiful costumes and dazzling with pearls and diamonds.

The ceremony was simple and was performed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the bishop of London as dean of the chapel royal and Canon Edgar Shephard, sub-dean of the chapel royal before an altar embellished with gold candleabra.

After the ceremonies the Archbishop of Canterbury delivered a short address in which he pointed out that while only a few had been able to assist at the ceremony, millions of Britons all over the world joined in rejoicing at the marriage of an English prince and princess.

The first part of the honeymoon is to be spent at the residence of Waldorf Astor at Sandwick bay on the south-east coast of England.

JAIL DELIVERY

Trusty Tells Warden of Plot—Find Loaded Revolvers and Saws

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 15.—A conspiracy to effect a wholesale jail delivery in the Hudson county jail was frustrated within an hour of the time set for its consummation by the finding of a loaded revolver in the cells of two prisoners and five steel saws hidden in a bathroom. The detection and prevention of the plot was announced yesterday.

Warden Sullivan was told of the plot by a trusty. The plot was to hold up a keeper at the point of a revolver in the bathroom, take his keys, open the cells and escape by a window, the bars of which were found to have been sawed in anticipation of the night. Ernest Wilson and Dominick Lepappe, alias Kid Dynamite, alleged ring-leaders in the conspiracy, were placed in solitary confinement after revolvers found in their cells were taken from them.

Wildhaber and Lepappe are awaiting trial on charges of implication in the shooting of Timothy Conroy last winter. They refused to say yesterday how they got the weapons and saws.

The American aeronaus also secured second place with the balloon piloted by Capt. H. E. Honeywell, while Italy was third with the balloon in charge of Signor Pastine.

WHAT GAMBOA DIKE LOOKED LIKE BEFORE IT WAS DYNAMITED; MAP OF PANAMA CANAL

The Gamboa dike, which separated the north entrance of Culebra cut from Gatun Lake, was blown up by an electric current switched on by cable by President Wilson in his office at Washington. The explosion threw 200 feet of the center of the dike high into the air in a fanlike mass of rock, earth and water. When the smoke cleared away 2,000 persons gathered on every side of the dike saw the water from the lake flow rapidly into the lower level of the cut just like a stream at a point where there are rapids. The sight was not especially spectacular because the difference of levels between the lake and the cut is only six feet, the level of both being now 67.7 feet above the sea. Colonel Goethals said: "I cannot predict the time when the canal will be open to navigation. The Cucaracha slide now blocks the channel to a length of 600 feet, and it is estimated that 2,000,000 cubic yards must be removed. This work will be begun by dredges within two weeks. If we can take out 500,000 yards a month and no more the slide will be empty by Jan. 1. I hope the channel will be entirely cleared by the first of the year." Forty tons of dynamite were used in the task of figuratively completing the cutting of the Panama canal. The explosion was distributed in 1,227 charges under the dike. Four hundred charges were exploded at one time, and the rest were set off at intervals. This picture shows workmen preparing the dike for the explosion. The map explains itself.

Capt. Inch of Volturmo Sends an Account of Disaster—Cigaret Caused Explosion

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The man for whose story the world has been waiting, Capt. Inch of the Volturmo, sent to the Uranium line from the Kronland yesterday a wireless report of the burning of his ship, the great loss of life and the splendid rescue by the international fleet of the survivors. The report was modest and self-effacing, and left out the story of his own heroism and resolution.

Armon Squires, a cable passenger on the Kronland, radiographed to the press last night a thrilling story of Capt. Inch's desperate courage at the time when it seemed that the fire would destroy the Volturmo before the rescuing ships could arrive. Inch, badly burned, the last man to leave his ship, went aboard the Kronland so blackened and fatigued that he was unrecognizable as a ship's officer.

The fire, it is said, was caused by an immigrant's fear that he would be caught smoking a cigaret and died. As a sailor approached him he threw the burning cigaret down a grating. It fell among baggage or among cases of oil and chemicals. There was an explosion followed by a rush of flame that trapped the watch below and burned them to death. The fire spread rapidly at first, causing explosions from time to time.

La Touraine, one of five rescuing ships that reached port yesterday with a total of 178 survivors, brought a story that relieved the horror of the disaster. She carried ten children, most of whom had been separated from their parents. These had been clothed and mothered and clothed by the women of the first cabin, who tore up their own dresses to make baby clothes and then put the rescued immigrant babies to bed in the best cabins of the French liner.

The other ships to reach port were the Devonian at Liverpool, the Minneapolis and the Narragansett at London and the Rappahannock at Halifax. Their arrival added to the details of the disaster, but did not make clear whether or not they had been cowardly and brutality on the Volturmo. Others denied it. All praised Captain Inch and his officers.

The Grosser Kurfuerst is expected to dock at 9 o'clock this morning. She is bringing to New York 105 of the survivors. The Kronland, delayed by storm and a defective shaft, will not reach this port with her eighty-seven survivors before tomorrow

SAYS COMFORT POWDER QUICKLY HEALS CHAFING

He says "Comfort Powder has been used here in Aurora, N. C., by me with great success, first on a badly chafed child three months old, in my own home, and it was quickly healed. Then one of my neighbors had a child about six months old which had eczema very badly on face, head and body, and after the first application of Comfort Powder it rested well all night for the first time in weeks and is now getting well fast."

For all skin soreness of infants or adults nothing equals Comfort Powder. Be sure you get the genuine with signature of E. S. Sykes on the box.

TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

BETTER TONE EVIDENT AT OPENING OF MARKET—NEW HAVEN MADE GAIN—SELLING MOVEMENT BEFORE CLOSE

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Stocks had a better tone at today's opening, receiving some impetus from London, where Americans generally were at a higher level. The feature was New Haven which responded to the ratification of its proposed bond issue with a two point gain and American Telephone issues also displayed marked firmness, the convertible bonds advancing 1 1/2. Leaders like Steel, Amal. Copper and the Harrimans gained fractions but Reading appeared to be under slight pressure. Canadian Pacific yielded a point at the opening, but soon recovered. Prices were inclined to shade before the end of the half hour.

After opening gains had been lost a general buying movement lifted the level well above the preceding day. Coppers were strongest of the active group, deriving their stimulus from London, where an advance in the metal was reported. Gains of one to three points were established before midday by Amalgamated, Steel common and preferred, American Telephone, People's Gas, U. P. and New Haven.

London was a purchaser to the extent of about 15,000 shares of American stocks during the afternoon, chiefly of Amal. and Steel. This was partly offset by earlier sales of Canadian, which was among the few high priced stocks that failed to keep pace with the later advance.

Another selling movement was operated just before the close with especial briskness in Can. Reading, B. & O. and other active shares. The decline wiped out a large part of the gains recorded earlier in the day.

MONEY MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Prime mercantile paper 5 1/4 per cent. Sterling exchange steady at 48.15 for sixty day bills and at 48.55 for demand. Com. metal bills 48. Bar silver 61 1/2. Mexican dollars 47. Government bonds firm; railroad firmer.

ATTACK CURRENCY BILL

Speakers at Conference on Currency Reform Term it as Dangerous and Unscientific

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The Glass-Owen currency bill now before congress was attacked as dangerous and unscientific at today's session of the national conference on currency reform. Prof. E. R. Selligman of Columbia university, Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank of New York, and Prof. J. F. Johnson, dean of the New York university school of commerce, led the assault at the morning session of the conference held at Columbia university.

Prof. Selligman said that the great, successful banking system of Europe has been framed not by politicians, but by bankers and theorists, and for that reason Germany, France and England had been a generation ahead of this country in these matters.

"We cannot refrain from expressing regret," said Prof. Selligman, "that in this country alone the question should be approached, not from the point of view of the interests of the whole country but from the point of view of one political party. We have not been able to raise ourselves above party."

The professor made a sharp rejoinder to Representative Glass, sponsor in the house for the currency bill, whose speech was presented at yesterday's session. The speaker referred to "an unfortunate remark" by a distinguished leader in our legislative halls to the effect that the real opposition to the bill came from bankers because their profits were threatened.

"That seems to me to be an ungenerous statement," said Prof. Selligman, "and I do not believe it to be true. I do not believe that our great bankers are so lacking in patriotism as to base whatever objection they care to make on the narrow grounds of their own immediate profits."

CARDIFF, Wales, Oct. 15.—Rescuing parties searching for the 400 miners still entombed in the Universal colliery where a terrific explosion occurred yesterday while 931 men were in the pit got into touch shortly after noon today with a party of 29 men shut in by a fall of coal in one of the galleries. They signalled that another group of 15 of their comrades was closed in farther along the gallery but that they feared they were dead.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. If you want a clear pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box.

Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

were rescued yesterday and today's discovery of further parties of living men gave rise to hopes that the fatalities would not be so numerous as was at first supposed.

Nearly 400 men, however, have still to be accounted for.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

An innovation has been planned for Friday noon at the association when a special invitation is extended to the public to patronize the lunch room. An autumn dinner with only the regular menu will prove to all who try the experiment that the dining room is in especially competent hands.

Mrs. D. A. Munsey who conducts a most successful summer hotel at Hampton beach and who for three years made famous the dining room at the association is again in charge. The patronage of men is desired.

At the "drop in" gathering this noon at 12:30 the speaker was Rev. Ernest Hartlett of the Draught Centre church.

Some Important Questions That Will Appear on Ballot

The state election will be held on Nov. 4, and several important questions will appear on the ballot for the voters to decide and among them will be the following:

Days Off for Firemen

An act relative to days off for members of the fire departments of the cities of Lowell, Taunton and Northampton.

Section 1. Members of the fire department of any city which accepts the provisions of this act, as hereinafter provided, shall be excused from duty for one day out of every five days without loss of pay. The time and the manner of so excusing them shall be determined by the chief, or other officers or board at the head of the fire department.

Section 2. The chief, or other officer, or board at the head of the fire department shall have authority, in case of any public emergency, to prevent any member of the department from taking the day off here provided for at the time when he is entitled thereto, or at the time assigned thereto, provided that such day off shall be granted to him as soon thereafter as may be practicable; and such days shall be in addition to any annual vacation now or hereafter allowed to the members of the said department, and such annual vacation shall not be diminished on account of the days off here provided for.

Section 3. This act shall be submitted to the voters of the cities of Lowell, Taunton and Northampton at the state election in the current year, and shall take effect in any of the said cities upon its acceptance by a majority of the voters voting thereon. (Approved March 21, 1913.)

Compensating Employers

An act to provide for compensation for certain employees for injuries sustained in the course of their employment.

Section 1. The commonwealth shall, and any county, city or town or district having the power of taxation, may pay the compensation provided by Part II. of chapter 751 of the acts of the year 1911 and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto to such laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by it as receive injuries arising out of and in the course of their employment, or in case of death resulting from any such injury, may pay compensation as provided in sections 6, seven and eight of said part II, and in any amendments thereof, to the persons thereto entitled.

At the state election the voters will be asked to either accept or reject this act for the employees of the county, while the same question will be brought before the voter at the city election for the city employees.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Alfred MacMillan, 293 Jackson street, Lawrence, Tuesday afternoon when their daughter, Miss Irene Katherine MacMillan, a graduate of the Lowell Normal school, became the bride of Cornelius F. McLaren, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McLaren of East Douglas. Rev. Chas. E. McColey, pastor of the Free Baptist church performed the ceremony. The double ring service was used. Miss Marion MacMillan, a sister of the bride, who is a nurse at the Lawrence General hospital was the bridesmaid, and Clemence Jeffers of Providence, R. I. a close friend of the bridegroom, was best man. Prior to the ceremony Miss Ieda Scholze, of Providence, R. I., rendered Mendelssohn's Wedding March. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to the immediate family of the young couple by Caterer: Page of Lowell. At 2 o'clock the bride and bridegroom departed and they will tour the south. On their return they will make their home at East Douglas and will be home to their friends after November 1st.

CUT THROUGH CAPE COD

NEW IMPETUS TO WORK TO SAVE SHIPPING THE NECESSITY OF ROUNDING CAPE DURING STORMS

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—New impetus to the work of cutting a canal through Cape Cod to save shipping the necessity of rounding the cape during such disastrous storms as have swept Nantucket shoals during the past few days was given today through the approval of the issue of $310,000 more stock and an equal amount of bonds by the public service, harbor and lands commission. This issue will bring the total issue of bonds to $1,114,000 and the issue of bonds to $1,110,000.

Sleep Disturbing Bladder Weakness Backache-Rheumatism, Quickly Vanish

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief From Few Doses of Croxone

Croxone soon relieves such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings, cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; heals the inflamed membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, lifeless kidneys so they can filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to end the worst backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders, and overcome the numerous other similar conditions.

Croxone is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed.

FALL OF LANDLORDISM

Many men have written of the rise and fall of landlordism or its equivalent in Ireland or elsewhere but when David Lloyd George, the brilliant chancellor of the exchequer, of England condemns it, his words are far more than usually significant, for the extraordinary little statesman never stops short at speaking. A few years ago he spoke on the need for curtailing some of the powers of an estate and arrogant house of lords, out of sympathy with the spirit of the age and country, and without a great flourish of trumpets he stopped talking soon afterwards and got quietly to work with the result that the house of lords was speedily rendered harmless by a power they had formerly disdained. When he says, therefore, "Landlordism is the greatest monopoly in this land and the people are trusting in the government to put forth its strong right arm to lift them from the mire," we may watch coming parliamentary activity with the expectation of seeing the death of landlordism, which is tottering to decay even now.

The chancellor gave some illuminating figures to prove that the land was not giving back to the laborer sufficient return for his toil. The landlords flourish and the laborers emigrate. He spoke of the limitless power formerly wielded by the land owners and summed up all its crimes in the sentence: "In Ireland millions have been driven away from the land by legal process." What was more to the point, he dwelt on the methods to be pursued by the government for the abolition of landlordism. The game preserves must be cut down two-thirds, a living wage must be given to farm laborers, labor must be drawn to the farms by good wages and better hours, and the laborer must have land enough to provide him with the necessities of life and give him ultimate hope of owning his own farm. He concluded with the promise that powerful aid would be evoked from the state to carry out these purposes and to put them into operation. England is making history these days and to Lloyd George is due much of the glory. Like another David he has succeeded in unequal contests against the giant Goliath of greed and injustice and his spirit is still strong.

BANKERS AND CURRENCY

At the recent Boston convention of bankers and on many other similar occasions the bankers of the country have signified their displeasure at some of the principal features of the currency bill which the administration is at present supporting, and which President Wilson wishes to have passed at the extra session of congress. The bankers do not like the bill and it is not expected that they should. We cannot expect them to approve a measure that will curtail some of their present unquestioned power over the finances of the country any more than we could expect business in general to approve of a tariff revision which did away with special privilege.

The substance of the technical objections to the currency bill seems to be that it will give the government too much power over the finances of the country and consequently will prevent the bankers from being absolute in their decisions of what the financial policies shall be. They claim that to have such a degree of government control as is intended will endanger the banking institutions and place them at the mercy of succeeding administrations. But on the other hand those who favor the currency bill point out many instances of the abuse of power by the bankers in the past, and show that they have been by no means interested in their management. It seems like a case of mutual distrust, the government fearing to allow too much power to the bankers because of past abuses and the bankers fearing the change because they will lose their power to rob the people. It may be argued that the bankers are experts in finance and know what the country needs, but they consider mainly their own interests rather than those of the country. They should be listened to, of course, but they should not be permitted to dictate the laws that govern their business any more than the national association of manufacturers should be allowed to dictate the terms of the tariff law.

As our currency is at present constituted there is a lack of centralized control which makes the system involved and unelastic and the monetary balance is too readily swayed by individual or powerful groups. The administration bill does not aim at giving the government nearly so much power as is now in the hands of Wall street, and the fact that the power so held was too often used to crush merchants and traders is an additional argument for some degree of government regulation that would prevent a repetition of financial panics and other preventable conditions. What is needed is a law that will make the currency of the country responsive to business needs, a currency that will adjust itself automatically to varying conditions; toward the creation of such a currency system the president is directing his undoubted and well proved influence and judgment. If he succeeds in passing the present bill he will render the country a service probably not equalled by any president since Lincoln.

THE PRESIDENT'S WHIP

A great deal is being said at present adversely and otherwise concerning the almost absolute power which the president seems to possess over the deliberations of congress. During the long tariff debate his wishes, occasionally expressed openly, were the strongest factor in shaping the fortunes of the bill and the same seems to hold true thus far in the case of currency revision. The peculiar part of the matter is that the power of the president is as strangely wielded as it was entirely unexpected. It is generally weighed as a great idealist but an impractical politician, and lo! he has proved himself to be a very practical man arriving at his ends by open and undeviating declaration of principle. His whip is all the more effective because he uses it so quietly. Probably one's views of the desirability or otherwise of the application of this silent power of the president is liable to be colored by bias. Those who dislike him cannot see anything good in it. But apart from its consideration as an abstract proposition the fact remains that he has used it wisely and well. When he ran for the presidency he outlined certain policies that his party and he would support, and he has been in the main constant to the principles then announced. In no case has the power of President Wilson been used for anything personal or any hobby not generally understood. He has supported the reforms he was elected to inaugurate. So long as he does this there shall be little cause for complaint.

One of the most interesting commentaries on this power of the president, and one that deserves meditation, was that of President Taft, who was able to speak from a none too happy experience. He recently said in a Boston speech that he was glad to see a president at the head of national affairs whose wishes were heeded in congress. President Taft failed because he was timid about piloting many reforms and ineffectual in steering others through congress. If President Wilson fails it will be from a decidedly different cause. He has the courage of his convictions and thus far he has been phenomenally successful in having his wishes heeded. He is showing up as a statesman rather than a theorist.

ARGENTINE BEEF

One of the practical results of the new tariff has been the importation of Argentine beef for the home market, and if the newspaper accounts may be trusted it compares favorably with the home product while selling at a far lower figure. This is one commodity concerning which the domestic controlling interests cannot well complain at foreign importation as the meat packers have been lamenting the scarcity of the home beef, and using that scarcity as a pretext for raising the price. If Argentine beef is good and wholesome, and cheaper than our golden calves, let us have it by all means. Our product grows scarcer and more costly yearly. When it is a case of choosing between Argentine beef or no beef it is easy to make a choice. We are still meat eaters.

BREAKERS AHEAD

It does not look as though the elections which are to be held in Mexico in a few weeks will result in any settlement of that lawless country for Huerta has wiped out the last semblance of constitutional government and heads the nation as a dictator absolute in his will—unless the people swarm to his palace doors with the unity in their hearts that he showed to the slain Madero. At present anarchy reigns; what may happen tomorrow no one can tell but those who have followed the recent history of Mexico can guess, shudderingly. Meanwhile it would be interesting to know what those think who were so loud in their condemnation of President Wilson's refusal to recognize Huerta. Time has vindicated the policy of the administration at Washington.

Seen and Heard

Dr. Edward Sanger, who has abandoned his post as assistant to a celebrated Chicago specialist, because he dislikes the latter's methods, said in New York: "We should not announce cures unless they are real cures. Imagination plays too great a part in a patient's feelings. "Imagination must always be reckoned with in medicine. Sometimes as a friend, sometimes as a foe. I know a doctor who treated an old woman for typhoid, and on each visit he took her temperature by holding a thermometer under her tongue. One day, when she had nearly recovered, the doctor did not bother to take her temperature, and he had hardly got 100 yards from the house when her son called him back. "Mother is worse," said the man. "Come back at once!" The doctor returned. On his entry into the sick room the old woman looked up at him with angry and reproachful eyes. "Doctor," she said, "why didn't you give me the bigger under me tongue today? That always done me more good than all the rest of your trash!" Chicago Record-Herald.

Mayor Gaynor was condemning a society whose object is the enforcement of the old Sunday blue laws—those laws which make it a crime to sell goods or newspapers, or other necessities on the Sabbath. The mayor, with his wonted epigrammatic touch, said of this society: "It's a pity these gentlemen can't learn that religion is a star, not a club."—New York Times.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

BEAUTY EVERYWHERE
Haverhill Gazette: It is certainly a lofty mission, that of the poet, which calls us to conscious realization of the beauty before our eyes, but life would mean infinitely more if we were to discover a little of the same beauty and poetry first hand; if we grew to respond to the noble in everyday events, if we appreciated the heroism, the fine delicacies and the honest truth that is everywhere about us.

POSS AND TRAINMEN
Fall River Herald: The trainmen have written to Gov. Doss that he does not understand their position and owes them an apology. On this ground, a general apology is due them from careful readers of their correspondence, but the governor, they could clear up the situation by explaining just what their position is.

UNDERWOOD
Lewiston Sun: Underwood's fitness for the senate cannot be questioned; Alabama should be proud to send him there. He is a leader, so popular, so powerful, is so rare and valuable that his removal to the senate is perilous to the democratic party. There is not another like him in sight.

VOLTEIRO
Springfield Record: While shipbuilders have been striving to produce an unsinkable ship, the little attention has been devoted to the even more important object of securing an unburnable ship. It is to be hoped that the state of the Volturno and 122 of its unfortunate passengers and crew will create a wave of public indignation that will focus attention on this inexcusable neglect and compel an immediate and drastic reform in the methods of ship construction and the means of preventing fires at sea.

RIVER NAVIGATION
Haverhill Record: The plan to make a deep-water channel from Lowell to the sea has merit. It will not cost out of proportion to the enormous benefits of the Volturno and 122 of its unfortunate passengers and crew will create a wave of public indignation that will focus attention on this inexcusable neglect and compel an immediate and drastic reform in the methods of ship construction and the means of preventing fires at sea.

PETTY SQUABBLES
Hamilton (Conn.) Herald: Many years ago two Westworth farmers got into a dispute over the location of a line fence between their hundred-acre farms. They went to law. One of the farmers won in the lower court, the other appealed and won. A new trial was ordered and they began all over again. The case dragged on for two or three years. The upshot of it was that the two opposing lawyers (both of whom afterwards became eminent in their profession) came into possession of the two farms.

MRS. GLADYS BROOKS, BRIDE OF A FEW MONTHS, DIED UNDER MYSTERIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES

REVERE, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Gladys Brooks was found dead in her apartments at Revere Beach yesterday under circumstances which prompted the authorities to order an investigation. Medical Examiner George E. ## MAYOR INVITED

To Attend International Convention of Mayors in London

A letter has been received today by Mayor James E. O'Donnell, who is a member of the Anglo-American exposition which will take place in London next year to celebrate one hundred years of peace and progress between Great Britain and the United States, from Albert E. Kivalo, commissioner, on behalf of the executive committee of the exposition, which includes the Earl of Kintore, Lord Blythe, Lord Rotherham, and many other British noblemen, to come to London for the purpose of attending an international convention of mayors which will be held at the exposition under the presidency of the honorable lord mayor of London.

Great interest has been shown in this unique convention, which will be the first opportunity afforded to the mayors of different important cities to meet in conference and to be able to discuss municipal and civic affairs and methods of government in regard to the different parts of the world, and should prove of great value to the community at large, as no doubt a good deal of valuable information will be gathered by those mayors and their delegations who will be attending this important meeting.

FIRE SCARE FATAL

President of Hampden Railroad Corp. Died From Excitement

WESTFIELD, Oct. 15.—Excitement due to a small fire is believed to have brought on an attack of heart trouble which caused the death last night of Ralph D. Gillett, president of the Hampden railroad corporation, and a well known railroad constructor. Gillett had just alighted from a train from Boston when he heard that his home was on fire. Jumping into an automobile, he hurried home, arriving there with the fire apparatus. As he started to run into the house Gillett sank to the ground and died within a few minutes. The fire was a small smudge under a stairway and was easily extinguished. Gillett was 47 years old. He leaves a widow and six children.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 15.—Julian Hawthorne and Dr. W. J. Morton, sentenced by the federal court in New York to a year and a day each in the federal prison here for violation of the United States postal laws, will be released today. At the time they were sentenced, March 21, 1912, the court ordered that their terms should date from Nov. 12, 1912, when they were arrested. Owing to the exemplary conduct of the prisoners, they have been given the benefit of the "good behavior" rule, which reduces their terms a month. Prison officials last night refused to say when the prisoners will be discharged, but it is believed they will leave the penitentiary this morning.

Athletes and Athletics

Jim Thorpe has made good his threat and wed. The great Indian athlete was kidded well nigh to distraction by the Giants, but promised them all that as soon as the world's series was over he would be married. Thorpe was married yesterday to an Indian maiden who attended Carlisle while Thorpe was there. The couple will accompany the Giants on their tour of the world.

Joe Chick of Fall River and Young Jasper of Boston fought another draw last night in their 15-round go at Manchester according to the referee's decision. The crowd did not take kindly to Referee Sweeney's award as they thought that Chick should have won the decision.

Again does James E. Sullivan, president of the A. A. U., come forward with a scheme by which the amateur can be determined. This time, however, it is an international agreement which Sullivan proposes. Without a doubt the present head of amateur athletics in this country is a great man in athletics, but the facts remain that Sullivan has an abundance of enemies all over the country who stand out prominently in amateur circles. Whereas Sullivan still controls his berth it does not necessarily mean that the various clubs will take up and further his scheme, even if it is the best proposition.

Harvard men are, once more agitating the graduate coaching system in their boat. It has been some time since this topic has been brought up seriously, but now it looks as though Harvard would inaugurate the system if Yale and Cornell would fall in line.

Friday night's battle at Madison Square Garden between Tommy Murphy and Packer McFarland will doubtless prove a boxing treat for the New York fans. Both men have been training faithfully for the contest and although McFarland is picked to outpoint his opponent we must bear in mind what happened to Mr. Frank Klaus the other night.

It looks as though Joe Morgan of Manchester had passed his boxing zenith. While Morgan has always been a clean performer and a favorite on account of his cleverness he has lately lacked the punch. Miller Huggins, the manager of the Cardinals, has picked the following All-American baseball team: Speaker, right field; Cobb, center field; Jackson, left field; Davis, first base; Collins, second base; Warner, short stop; Baker or Lobert, third base; Walter Johnson, pitcher and Archer catcher.

Ralph Rose, the amateur champion with the shot, is in a San Francisco hospital, and not expected to live. He was stricken down with typhoid fever a few days ago. Rose is one of the most popular athletes who ever took his turn in any field event.

Although the writer has written to the Bull Durham people concerning the two home run clouts which Rube DeGroff slammed up against the bull, nothing has been done in the matter. It looks from here as though the Rube was going to be hung up on his brace of $50 checks.

It is rumored that McCormack, the pinch hitter of McGraw's outfit, will be at Chattanooga next season in the role of manager. Kid Eberfeld held down the job this year but was not liked by the owners. McCormack certainly knows baseball and should make a good pilot for a class AA club.

Baker, the Princeton captain and mainstay in the backfield, has shown his last season's form so far this fall and looks like another All America selection. Mahan and Brickley of Harvard will have to be put on the first eleven of the country unless they meet with accidents during the early games.

Cleveland finally won the series from Pittsburgh although seven games were necessary to decide the winner. The concluding game in this series rings the bell for 1913 baseball.

It is rumored that Manager Gray will be seen in the role of manager next season but not with the Lowell club. By the same token it is said he will not be in this league nor with a team of class B standing.

Although Owner Roach has been thinking of departing from the baseball arena for some time he has no definite plans for disposing of the Lowell club. Mr. Roach assured us early in the season that he was heartily tired of the cares and troubles of a baseball magnate but further than that he has not committed himself. Lowell fans have seen two pennant winners here since Messrs. Roach and Gray took control of the local club.

The Rindge team which defeated Lowell high here last Saturday is picked as one of the strongest school-boy aggregations in the state. Rindge will have its troubles galore in both the English high and Somerville high games.

Ad Wolgast and Bat Nelson pulled down quite a piece of change in their Milwaukee battle. The fans of that city state that there never was such a rugged affair pulled off in their town. Milwaukee must be in a bad way for boxers when Wolgast and the Battler are looked upon as two champs.

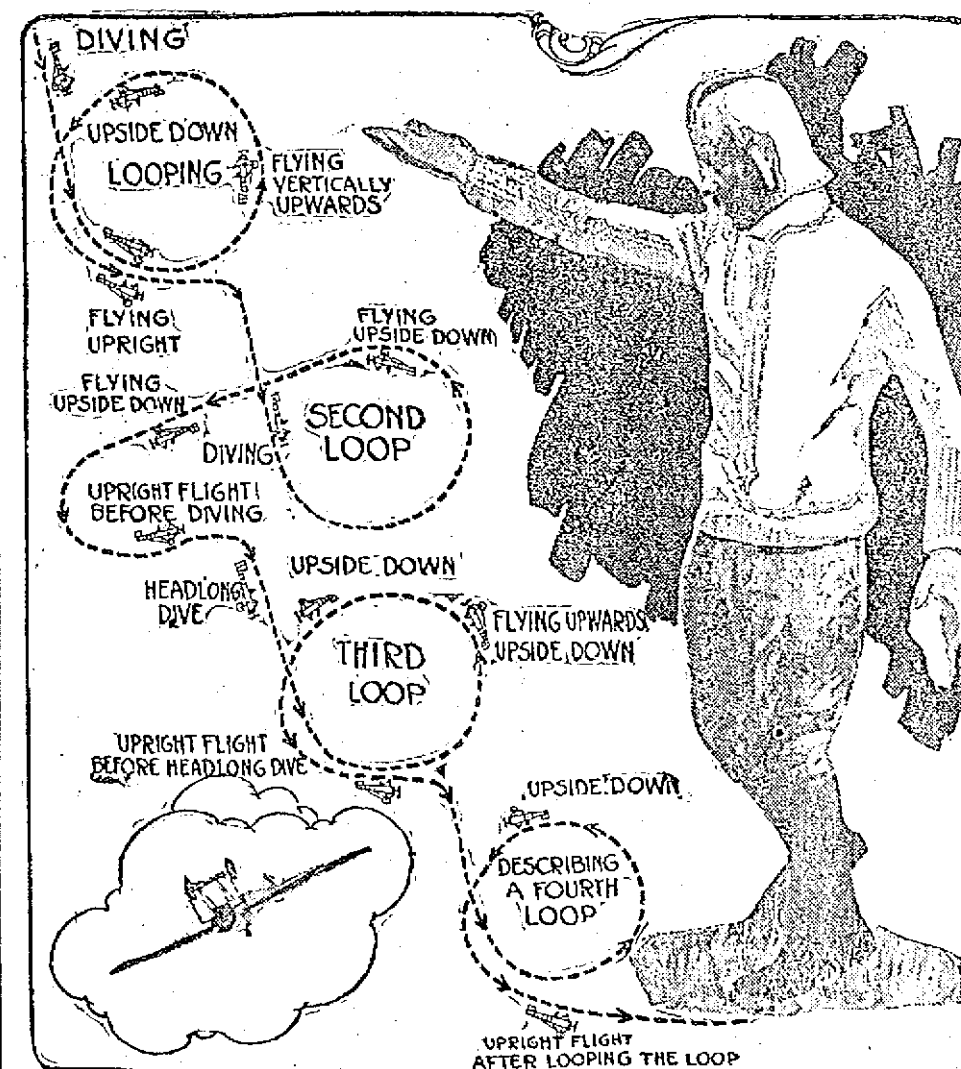

The proposed sale of Morkie has started all sorts of rumors about who will play the first sack for the Giants next season. Big Ed Konetchy, the Cardinals' first tacker, would be a great trade for McGraw to make and would be beamed upon by Big Ed. Konetchy has announced that he will not play another season with St. Louis.

CRACK WOMEN GOLFERS OF UNITED STATES, CANADA AND ENGLAND PLAY FOR TITLE

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 15.—The tournament golfing was never more popular among women than it is today and keen interest was manifested by feminine followers of the ancient Scotch game in the outcome. Miss Marion Hollins, a prominent society follower of sports, was among the familiar players who made a good showing. Miss Florence Harvey, a Canadian player, was prominent in the entries from the Dominion.

PEGOUDING WITH PEGOUD, AERIAL ACROBAT; HE'S COMING TO AMERICA TO STARTLE US

PEGOUD and DIAGRAM of SOME of HIS AMAZING FEATS

Pegoud, the marvelous human automaton of the air, is reported to be planning to amaze America with his aerial feats. This diagram is drawn in elevation—that is to say, it shows the path of flight as it appears from the side of the machine. If this page is held upright, then the diagram represents what Pegoud may be expected to do against the background of the sky. Pegoud is marvelous because he understands precisely what his machine is going to do and knows precisely how long he desires it to keep on doing the same thing. In a word, Pegoud is the perfect human automaton. Instead of controlling the machine Pegoud lets the machine control itself. He has the intelligence to eliminate himself at the moment that the machine enters upon

Ban Johnson in Favor of Prohibiting Players From Writing

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league and member of the national commission, favors the retention of the world's series games each fall in their present form.

"While I recognize many of the necessary evils of the world's series, the one big point in its favor is that it arouses tremendous interest in every city and hamlet in the nation," Johnson said last night. "This interest redounds to the benefit of baseball and our efforts should be to strengthen baseball. The inter-league series with 16 clubs competing would sustain local interest but they would remove the great financial incentive for teams to win their league pennants."

The commission here, Johnson said, practically has agreed to the insertion in the uniform players' contracts of the major leagues for 1914 of a clause which will prohibit players from writing for newspapers.

SUSPECTS GONE

Mass. Police Give up Search Near Dover for Slayers of Constable

DOVER, N. H., Oct. 15.—The search for the men who attempted the Salisbury, Mass. Postoffice robbery and murdered Constable Heath was abandoned yesterday afternoon by the Massachusetts state police, who left Boston yesterday morning on train and set out from here at 6 o'clock with local officers to hunt for two suspects seen Monday afternoon on the Knox marsh road near the Hanson woods.

Early yesterday the searchers learned that the milk house near the Newmarket station on the Portland division of the Boston & Maine was broken into Monday night by two men who helped themselves to milk and who are believed to have boarded a westbound night freight.

The lack of developments after the territory between here and Newmarket was thoroughly covered by the searchers, everybody interviewed having given descriptions of the men wanted and instructed to telephone the Dover police if men answering the descriptions were seen, convinced both the Massachusetts and Dover officers that the men lurking in the Hanson woods were probably those who broke into the milk shed and undoubtedly got away on a freight afterward.

The early start the searchers made yesterday in two automobile parties enabled them to visit all barns and farmhouses in the adjoining section of Madbury, Durham and Lee before the fog, if they sought shelter from the cold, would be stirring.

If they slept in the woods it was believed that the fierce sleet storm that began yesterday forenoon would have driven them to shelter, in which case they would probably have been seen and reported.

In addition to the searching parties' efforts to secure the cooperation of the farmers Chief of Police Clark had the rural mail carriers tell all persons en route of the efforts to capture the peggs and ask them to report suspicious characters.

The Massachusetts party, consisting of State Officers Flynn, Sherlock, Horrigan and Thompson and Chief of Police Samuel Beckman of Salisbury, left at 3 p. m. for Boston.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The famous musical comedy hit of three continents, "The Quaker Girl," will be presented at the Lowell Opera House next Thursday evening, Oct. 16th, under the personal management of John P. Stoen, by arrangement with the estate of the late Henry B. Harris. An organization of eighty-six players headed by Victor Morley and including most of the original cast will be seen here. In fact, it is the No. 1 and only company presenting the piece. Everyone knows by this time of "The Quaker Girl" and its stay of years in London, Paris and New York, but for those who may have forgotten, it might be explained that the music is by Daniel Monckton, the book by James T. Tanner and the lyrics by Adrian Ross and Percy Greenbank. After remaining two years in London and a year in Paris, the late Henry B. Harris was fortunate enough to secure the American rights and the result was a year's run at the Park theatre, New York, and the score is one continuous success of song hits. The most famous of which is the hitting "Good-bye to the Ball" waltz. Seats are now selling.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Dion Boucicault's great southern drama, "The Octoroon," which is being presented by the Merrimack Square theatre players this week is rightly classed as one of the most interesting of its kind that the stage has produced in years. The story is very cleverly woven about the principal character "Zoe," a beautiful young woman, the unfortunate victim of its appointed task. He does it with the utmost skill to the desired attitude, he turns it head downward toward the earth, he drops like a stone until he has acquired the momentum necessary to effect his purpose, and then he calmly and deliberately pushes forward his elevator lever and sits still while the machine flattens out on its back. Pegoud is always on the outside of the circle. Even when he loops the loop he himself is on the outside of the machine. Pegoud is shown here as he was snapped after one of his acrobatic stunts. He was explaining his process of air tumbling to an amazed circle of admiring friends.

slave laws of the south during the middle of the past century. As Zoe, Miss Young appears to particular advantage in all of the six acts and she receives the support of an excellent cast, including Walter Scott Weeks, John Charles, Sydney, stage director, reflects his superior ability in dressing each act in a way that adds materially to the success of the production. The photo-plays that are shown before and between the acts are of the same high standard that has characterized this feature of the entertainment in the past.

KEITH'S THEATRE

"The Movies," which is being presented at the B. F. Keith's theatre, this week, is a very timely take-off on the latest fad for motion pictures. A procession of familiar types are shown, not the least impressive being the dopey piano players of the establishment, played splendidly by Jack Van Epps, the rouser, acted by Ralph J. Locke, the ticket seller and illustrated song singer, Roberta Taylor's contribution to the motion pictures. The act goes on in three big scenes, the grand climactic being reached during the presentation of the enraging "Hillman drummer," Love's Sweet Sake, Rae Eleanor Ball, violinist, gives a lot of real pleasure to lovers of violin music. Other acts on the bill are: Classic trio, singers and instrumentalists; Knockknockers trio, singers; Elton, the Armistead & Burke, "The Crazy Recruit," and the Pathe weekly. Good seats in advance. Phone 23.

FOOTBALL PLAYER INJURED

SUFFIELD, Conn., Oct. 15.—Frank Thompson of Suffield, Conn., right tackle on the Connecticut Literary Institute eleven who was injured in a football game a day or two ago, is suffering from concussion of the brain, it was stated today. He was struck on the back of the neck during a line plunge and rendered unconscious. The physicians say he is now out of danger.

MACK AND WOOD ACTIVE

Bay Wood, the "fighting Frenchman" from Fall River, will meet a real aggressive performer in Frankie Mack of Beachmont at the Lowell A. C. Friday night. Mack is very clever and carries a good wallop in each hand. His great bout here a few weeks ago with K. O. Swames of New York will be remembered as one of the features of the season. Sweeney came here with a record most formidable and with sentiment wholly in his favor. He stumbled against a stone wall in Mack, who gave Sweeney the first defeat in a remarkable ring career. Wood is fast, tough, and indications point to a great bout. A semi-final and two good preliminaries are also on the program.

LIND TO LEAVE MEXICO

U. S. Sends Sharp Note to Huerta
—Amazed at His Action—No
Further Negotiations Planned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The United States government yesterday informed Provisional President Victoriano Huerta that it looked with abhorrence and amazement upon his assumption of both executive and legislative powers in Mexico and that in view of his course, could not regard as constitutional the elections planned for October 26.

Two notes, the one strongly phrased and written by Secretary Bryan, inquiring about the safety of the imprisoned members of the Mexican congress, and the other drawn in forceful language by President Wilson himself, are said to constitute practically the last efforts of the Washington government to deal with the Huerta authorities by the diplomatic means, unless there is a decided change of spirit on the part of the officials in Mexico City. The negotiations through John Lind had progressed to the point where the stated department accepted the endorsement of President Wilson himself, and where it was confidently hoped that a fair and free election would be held on October 25. Now, however, President Wilson has made it clear that the Washington government had with the events of the last few days—the imprisonment of the deputies and the establishment of a dictatorship by Huerta—lost all hope of seeing a constitutional election held by the Huerta regime.

The step taken by the United States was formally communicated to all foreign governments. No further negotiations are planned through diplomatic channels and it would not be surprising if John Lind, who has been waiting at Vera Cruz to observe the manner in which the Huerta officials carried out their promises should return to the United States at once. Huerta decrees proclaiming himself as in charge of the department of interior, administration, finance and war were received here yesterday and the text given out at the state department. The documents were read at yesterday's cabinet meeting and members of the cabinet expressed themselves as astonished at the audacity of General Huerta. They were appalled by President Wilson of the nature of the two communications sent to Gen. Huerta through Charge O'Shaughnessy and all voiced approval of the vigorous representations. The cabinet meeting was about to adjourn when press despatches announced that Senator Querido Moreno, Mexican minister of foreign affairs, had characterized the American communications as "intemperate."

Official Washington last night awaited the formal reply being drafted by the Huerta administration. Charge O'Shaughnessy reported that he had conveyed both communications and had been assured with respect to the imprisoned deputies that no violence would be done them, but that they would be tried for sedition.

It is the second note of the American government, which is said to be only 160 words in length, practically breaking off negotiations with Huerta which is believed to have prompted Foreign Minister Moreno's description "intemperate." Administration officials held that with most of the members of the Mexican congress in jail, a prominent member of congress who dared to speak adversely to the Huerta administration still mysteriously concealed and the congress dissolved,

It is impossible for the civilized world to believe that the Huerta group was capable of establishing or maintaining constitutional authority in the southern republic. They also feel that the Huerta officials are no longer deserving of such diplomatic relations as have hitherto existed.

As yet there is no concrete evidence that the Washington administration intends to use drastic measures. The White House has discouraged the heads of the army and navy from taking any steps that would give an alarmist impression.

Some officials said they would not be surprised if the failure of the Huerta government to comply with promises made to John Lind would cause the Washington administration to consider throwing its support to the constitutionalists in the north of Mexico. This might carry with it a lifting of the embargo of arms and many senators think the constitutionalists would soon triumph if they had such assistance. President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have hitherto opposed such a step but informal communication within the last two weeks with the constitutionalists has indicated that the Washington administration is entertaining the leaders of the constitutional movement to determine what are their purposes and whether they could establish constitutional authority in Mexico.

It is confidently expected here that foreign governments generally will follow in the lead of the United States in whatever steps are taken. Today, incidentally, Henry Lape Wilson's resignation as ambassador to Mexico went into effect.

NIGHT SESSIONS

Committee Determined to Finish the Currency Controversy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—If necessary, the senate banking and currency committee will hold night sessions to hear all witnesses listed to discuss the administration currency bill in order to close the hearings Oct. 25. The committee yesterday revised its list of witnesses and agreed to hear H. Parker Willis, who acted as expert to the house committee during consideration of the bill. National Bank Examiner Starek, in charge of bank examinations in New York; representatives of the national chamber of commerce and a delegation of country bankers from Minnesota, in addition to witnesses already scheduled. When the hearings are closed the bill will be taken up for amendment.

The committee worked late last evening getting the views of country bankers on the bill.

THE EATON HOME

Inspected by Jury Empanelled to Try Widow of Admiral

PLYMOUTH, Oct. 15.—Spectators, barred yesterday because the big panel of talesmen occupied all the seats, thronged today to the courtroom to watch the real start of the trial of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton for the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton.

Today's court proceedings lasted less than 35 minutes. The session began at 9 a. m. with District Attorney Barker outlining to the jury the location of the different rooms in the Eaton house at Assinippi and the relative positions of the various buildings on the premises.

Shortly after 9:30 o'clock court adjourned until tomorrow. The jurors, in charge of deputy sheriffs and accompanied by counsel for the commonwealth and defendant left immediately for Assinippi on a special trolley car. It was expected that the inspection of the premises would consume the greater part of the day.

MRS. EATON WATCHED THE SELECTION OF JURY WHICH WILL SIT ON CASE

PLYMOUTH, Oct. 15.—The 12 jurors before whom Mrs. Jennie May Eaton will be tried on the charge of murdering by poisoning her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton at Assinippi last March, were chosen yesterday in the superior court.

The defendant showed the liveliest interest in the proceedings as she watched the rapid sifting of the one hundred and more talesmen who were examined yesterday. Just before the regular hour of adjournment, Eugene L. Dunham, a shoe worker of Middleboro, was chosen as juror No. 12.

Chief Justice Wilken appointed Jas. A. Thomas, a millwright of Middleboro, aged 64, as foreman and the court adjourned until this morning.

The jury is as follows:
J. Ellsworth Dunham, shoe worker, Abington.
Henry C. Chandler, laborer, Duxbury.
James A. Thomas, millwright, Middleboro.
Seneca T. Weston, farmer, Middleboro.
Charles S. Tinkham, shoe worker, Middleboro.
George E. Swift, farmer, Plymouth.
Alfred H. Henshaw, conductor, Wareham.
Daniel P. Murphy, shoe worker, Brockton.

THE LUMBER TRUST CASE

GOVERNMENT TODAY FILED ITS BRIEF IN THE SUPREME COURT—PREPARED BY G. CARROLL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The government filed its brief in the lumber trust case today in the supreme court. It was prepared by G. Carroll, assistant to the attorney general and marks another stage in the action under the Sherman anti-trust law against a number of associations of retail lumber dealers throughout Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and the District of Columbia. The associations are appealing from the southern district court of New York which held the retailers to be violators of the anti-trust law and enjoined the further distribution of blacklists against boycotted wholesalers who sell directly to consumers.

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 3, 1913.

To the Selectmen of the City of Lawrence:

Two of our fellow-workers Salvatore Bruno and Saviero Golea have been condemned in their second trial to seven years in the state prison. If you compare the verdict reached by the jury with the one in the now famous dynamite trials in your state, in which big mill-owners and others were the defendants, while in this case the courts have to deal only with common, ordinary laborers, we the members of Local 272, I. # GOV. FOSS WILL RUN

Attached His Name to Nomination Papers as an Independent Candidate, Making Seven in All

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—Nomination papers for Governor Foss were filed at 4:18 yesterday afternoon by Private Secretary George Harlow. The papers bore 1697 names, were marked "Independent" and were certified to by the governor in five places.

This is the first independent nomination for governor since 1907, when General Charles W. Bartlett was a candidate, after being ruled off the democratic ticket by the ballot law commission.

The governor has until Friday night to withdraw them if he wishes. The time is 5 o'clock. But both Secretaries Sherman and Harlow say positively that he will not withdraw them. Mr. Harlow announced that tonight the governor would open his campaign with an address before the state board of trade convention at Norwood Central.

The governor is on his way home from Indianapolis, where he has been attending a convention of the American Prison Association, before which he spoke on Monday upon the reform of prison systems. The feature of his address there was an attack upon the partisan administration of Massachusetts prisons.

The filing of the governor's papers was not a surprise to the politicians. At the democratic state committee the prediction was made by Secretary O'Leary that the effect would be to increase the size of Mr. Walsh's vote. Lieutenant-Governor Walsh himself, when reached by telephone, declined to comment upon the governor's candidacy, and Congressman Gardner, who spoke in Cambridge last night, would not discuss it.

There are now seven candidates for governor. They are: Charles Sumner Bird of Walpole, progressive; Alfred H. Evans of Northampton, prohibition.

Eugene N. Foss of Boston, Independent.
Augustus P. Gardner of Hamilton, Republican.
Arthur B. Reimer of Boston, socialist labor.
David I. Walsh of Fitchburg, democratic.
George H. Wrenn of Springfield, socialist.

THE LOCAL REGISTRY

VERY MATERIAL CHARGES AT THE COURT HOUSE ON GORHAM STREET

Those who had occasion to visit the court house on Gorham street today noticed with pleasure that the remodeling of the registry department is practically complete. The new glass door and partitions which have been moved forward some distance in order to enlarge the space occupied by the registry of deeds, is finished, and as one enters the Gorham street door of the building, a more symmetrical appearance is noted.

Previous to the work of remodeling, there was a long entrance hallway to the record room and office of the registry, and it was decided on recommendations of Mr. William Purcell, to convert this hall into an added room, by enlarging the door into the smaller office on the right hand side of the southern hallway, and moving the counter into the space made by the broadening of the entrance. What was formerly a partition dividing the office from the hall and containing two small doors, was made into a great arch and in the new wooden counter has been set. The wooden affair, however, will be in place but for a short time as a new steel counter is to be installed.

By the new arrangement, the registry is greatly benefited, having much more room for its record vaults, tables, etc., and greater convenience for the carrying on of its daily business. By means of the great arch and larger counter space, congestion is avoided, and there is no crowding when a large number appear at the department.

On the left as one enters from Gorham street is the room for the untested probate sessions, reached by means of a short hallway. This now corresponds in symmetry with the registry since the entrance to the latter has by the remodeling, been moved forward until it is the same distance from the main entrance as is the probate court room. Thus, what was formerly a hallway, has been added to the space devoted to the department of the registry of deeds.

The work required considerable time and owing to the strong structure of the walls, etc., of the interior of the building, was attended by some little difficulty. It included the removing of large partitions, and the building of an additional partition for the entrance. It also to some extent hampered the work of the department, owing to the noise and general inconvenience which it caused. With the progress thus far made, the work will be completed in a short time. It is

Public Utilities Commission Indorses New Haven Financing Plan

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—The proposed $67,000,000 New Haven bond issue was late yesterday afternoon approved by the Massachusetts public service commission, four of the five members signing the majority report. A vigorous minority opinion signed by the fifth member, George W. Anderson, severely condemns the action of the board, calls the huge bond issue an example of "director-banker money-cutting," and characterizes the legalization of the issue as "the supreme arrogance" on the part of the commission.

The commission also authorizes the issue of $75,000 shares of stock at par, to meet the convertible feature of the issue, which takes effect after five years and within 20 years, at the option of the holders.

An appeal from the decision in the form of prayer for an injunction from the supreme court restraining the railroad from issuing the bonds will, it is believed, be made by the minority stockholders who appeared in opposition to the issue. Neither Morgan G. Bulkeley, former governor of Connecticut, who led the remonstrants at the public hearings, nor his chief counsel, James P. Jackson, would make any statement last night, however, on the question of an appeal.

"I can't say anything until I have read the decision," said Mr. Bulkeley over the phone last night. Mr. Jackson declared that till there had been a meeting of the counsel to discuss the matter he, also, could make no statement.

It is pointed out, however, that the majority decision, by deciding the legal questions involved without argument, and stating that it felt it to be its duty to leave the legal discussion to the courts, had in effect invited an appeal leading to a judicial decision. Commissioner Anderson gives as his reason for his adverse vote that he believes the issue to be against the law, outside the legal powers of the commission, and in the face of the decision of the Massachusetts supreme court in 1908.

The majority report, signed by Commissioners Fred J. Macleod, George W. Bishop, Clinton White and Everett E. Stone, adopts most of the arguments made before the board by counsel for the railroad and for the stockholders' protective committee.

The intention of the authorities to install all steel furniture in both the record room and the other office. At present the wooden chairs, tables, etc., are being re-varnished. In the record room there is still a good deal of wooden equipment, including writing tables, but again, much steel furnishing has been installed.

During the work of remodeling, the small rooms on the left of what was formerly the approach, were used for the registry, and a temporary counter was installed. In a short time, the department will be conducting its daily business over a steel counter in the enlarged room where the arch has been constructed, and other important improvements and additions will have been made.

NEW STEAMSHIP LINES

MUST BE ESTABLISHED IN BOSTON TO COMPETE WITH OTHER ATLANTIC PORTS

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—If Boston is to compete successfully with New York and other Atlantic ports in the new trade to be opened up by the Panama canal three new steamship lines from here to Latin-American points must be established in the opinion of John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American union. Mr. Barrett, addressing the Boston Credit Men's association last night, said that one of these lines should run to the chief ports on the east coast of South America and the other two should send steamers through the canal to the west coast of Central and South America.

"The United States," he added, "is face to face with what is perhaps the most difficult problem in its history and must look to it that, having built the Panama canal the nations of Europe do not secure the greater portion of the commerce made possible by it."

CRANBERRY CROP SPOILED

MIDDLEBORO, Oct. 15.—The Plymouth county cranberry crop was hit hard by the snowstorm and cold weather which prevailed during the greater part of yesterday. Growers estimate that fully fifty thousand barrels of unpicked berries in the bogs in this vicinity were spoiled. An unusually large number of berries remain on the vines, the bad weather of the past ten days having necessitated the suspension of harvesting operations.

HELPLESS IN GALE

Doctor, Wife and Friend Drifted All Night in Storm

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—Dr. and Mrs. Henry Hawkins of 39 Marlboro street, Back Bay, and Lester M. Livingston of Dorchester, who were out in a 40-foot boat all Monday night and most of yesterday, were located just before dusk last night, their craft moored in the Back river at Weymouth.

The party, when it started from the South Boston Yacht club on Monday morning in the Nevada, owned and sailed by Dr. Hawkins, numbered about 15. They left the yacht club and headed toward the West Way. Just as darkness was falling Dr. Hawkins sailed into Quincy bay, and put all ashore except his wife, his friend and himself.

He sailed out into the West Way again toward Long Island, and was headed for the yacht club at South Boston, when a sudden puff of wind blew his sails away, broke his mast and left him helpless with a strong northwest gale blowing up.

Mrs. Hawkins became frightened and began calling for help and trying to console his wife, Dr. Hawkins became exhausted. He was out in the cockpit of the boat all night in the blinding gale and snow storm.

Daylight broke and with the storm grew worse, and he finally gave up, as it was impossible to see through the gale in the West Way. Toward noon he again attempted to place signals, but they failed to work. The craft finally drifted into the Back river, where the doctor dropped anchor.

RALPH ROSE IS ILL

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Ralph Rose, world's champion shotputter, is fighting for life against typhoid fever, with which he was stricken a few days ago. "His condition is not nearly as good as it should be, and I consider it a very serious case," said the athlete's physician yesterday. "It will be from four days to a week before the crisis will be reached, and I only can say that Rose is taking the disease very hard."

BUREAU OF EDUCATION

Uses Corn Campaign in Philippines — Director of Education is Very Enthusiastic

In discussing general Philippine conditions before a distinguished audience in one of the great universities of this country a few months ago a lecturer, in referring to the school system there, spoke of it as constituting the "great primary school system in the world," not in respect of great number of pupils in attendance nor in respect of great amounts of money expended, but great in that it meets the needs of the people and is instrumental in bringing about decidedly better economic and social conditions among them.

The thirteenth annual report of the director of education of the Philippines which has just reached the bureau of insular affairs at Washington and covers the activities of the bureau of education for the year 1912-1913 shows that the work is on a most satisfactory basis. It is giving to the Filipino people a form of education fitted to his needs and one which is substantially modern in every respect and that it can be depended upon to assist very materially in the realization of the best hopes of the Filipino people.

The director reports that a very steady and encouraging advance has been made during the past year. Total marked advance is shown in the higher standard of the instruction in English, in the better school buildings and grounds becoming available, in the sounder basis on which industrial instruction has been organized, in the further and very marked improvement in the American and Filipino personnel connected with the work of the bureau, in the notable improvement in the efficiency of the administrative side of the work and in the effectiveness with which the program for the physical training of the pupils enrolled in the public schools is becoming operative.

Notwithstanding the fact that the total enrollment for the past year has been somewhat less than that for the preceding year the percentage of attendance has increased from 83 to 87 per cent, thus by the increased regularity of attendance in part compensating for the smaller number of pupils for whom school facilities were available.

Directorate and Teachers

There was no change in the directorate of the bureau during the past year. However, the director himself was absent a greater part of the year on leave in the United States thus leaving the first assistant in direct charge.

With the elimination of those American teachers whose services for one reason or another have been unavailable the director believes that it would be difficult to find a more efficient force than that at present in the service of the bureau. The teachers secured from the United States have been almost without exception of splendid character and excellent preparation. This has been possible because of the greater interest taken in the United States in the work of the Philippine bureau of education.

While the quality of the American teaching force has advanced very materially that of the Filipino teacher has kept pace and great advancement in their attainments and ability to teach is shown. Filipino teachers have been assigned to positions of greater responsibility as rapidly as possible and now 115 are serving as supervising and assistant supervising teachers which number does not include 21 Filipino industrial supervisors.

Courses of Study

The courses of study have been slightly modified during the past year. The changes made have been in the direction of simplification.

Conditions in the Philippines demand early specialization. In the prescribed course of study this specialization is introduced in the first year of the intermediate course—of which six are provided: The general course; the course for teaching; the course in farming; the course in housekeeping and household arts; and the course in business. To delay specialization until the secondary course is reached would result in sending out from the public schools the vast majority of the pupils without any special preparation to fit them for useful careers in the more or less humble stations in life to which the majority of this or any other country must be confined. It is planned to establish at least one school offering the course in farming in each division. At present six such schools are in operation, while one additional school offers more extensive instruction in agriculture.

There are 250 intermediate schools offering the general course; 95 the housekeeping and household arts course; 49 the teaching course; 10 the trade course; 6 the farming course; and two the course in business.

Industrial Schools

All of the insular schools which include the Philippine Normal school, the Philippine School of Arts and Trades, the School of Household Industries, the Philippine School of Commerce and the School for Deaf and Blind, are fulfilling the purposes for which they were established and are turning out large numbers of young men and women every year to take conspicuous places in community activities.

In connection with the Philippine carnival, held in Manila, February 1-3, inclusive, a Far Eastern Olympic was held in which China, Japan and the Philippines took part. The majority of the contestants representing the Philippines were school boys. In track, field and general athletic events the Philippine were victorious. Japan won the baseball championship. It is difficult to overestimate the significance of this series of games. It may be truly said that athletics in the public schools made such an international contest possible.

The Corn Campaign

The corn campaign conducted by the bureau of education was the most important of the special features of the work of the past school year. Two contests were arranged, one for the production of the best ears of corn, and the other for the production of the most corn on a given area. In addition to this, demonstrations were given in practically all of the municipalities of the islands in the use of corn as a human food. The campaign received the enthusiastic support of the people and officials alike, and has resulted in an immense amount of good in disseminating knowledge of the most advanced methods of corn production, and the use of corn as human food.

Industrial Instruction

The program for industrial instruction for the public schools has been carefully worked out, and includes most of the important Philippine industrial activities. It covers seven years of work—the four years of the primary course, and the three years of intermediate course—and provides instruction in agriculture, domestic science, needle work in its various forms, weaving of Philippine fibers, and work in wood, iron and clay. No provision is made for passing pupils through the primary and intermediate grades without some industrial instruction. Specialization along one of six lines is begun at once in the intermediate grades.

The director's report shows that during the past year 12,958 boys were taking the trade and shop work; that 196,448 boys were engaged in garden, farm and fishing; 12,360 girls were taking the gardening work; and that 33,193 girls were studying housekeeping and household arts. Among other crafts and industries we find 12,363 girls learning lace making, 12,363 embroidery, 6,500 cooking, 10,363 boys and 2,031 girls making hats; 22,367 pupils were studying mat making; and 12,363 working on baskets.

ITCHING ECZEMA

Completely Cured When Three Years of Other Treatments Did No Good

June 14, 1913—"Four years ago I developed a bad case of eczema on my face which was not only bad to look at, but extremely annoying by reason of burning and itching. It was in very large sores, looked almost like boils.

"As soon as the disease healed a trifle in one place—always leaving the skin dark—it appeared in another, getting worse as it advanced. After three years' treatment it grew no better, until I found Resinol. I used both Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, and after two months not a trace of the eczema remained." (Signed) Miss Beulah Amanda Elliott, Greenwood, Del.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are also speedily effective in even the stubbornest cases of pimples, blackheads, dandruff, sores and piles. Prescribed by doctors for eighteen years, and sold by every druggist in the United States. For free trial, write to Dept. 15-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

OUR SCHOOL PHYSICIANS

And Their Connection With Local and State Health Officials

How to Insure Local Supervision of Medical Inspection of Schools

In a state board of health bulletin, just issued, there is a rather interesting article by Wm. C. Hanson, M. D., on the correlation of the work of school physicians and local and state health officials.

Dr. Hansen says that in recent years the educational authorities have come to realize the close interrelation between the physical and mental development of the child, to the extent that they now consider it to be their duty to look after both.

The article in question reads, in part, as follows:

In a Massachusetts city with a population of about 104,000, including a school population of about 18,000, there are six school physicians in the employ of the board of health. Two nurses are also employed by the board to follow into the homes many of the children with defects or diseases discovered by the physicians. Each physician and nurse does practically as he or she pleases, visits the school-houses and the homes of the pupils, and submits his or her report at irregular intervals to the board of health. The board has issued no printed or written instructions for the guidance of either physicians or nurses. One physician, for example, may and does take a great deal of interest in his work, the interest carrying him along in it. Even for the small salary of $200 per year, so that he does for the city far more than he is paid for doing; whereas another physician does his work in an irregular fashion, taking little interest in it, partly because of the small salary, and submitting his reports only when requested, if at all.

But there is one saving thing about the work as conducted in this city, for each school physician must report at once to the board of health every case of communicable disease in the school and in the community wherein the school is located, for he acts not only as school physician but as agent to the board of health. He has, however, no idea of correlating the school and health work any more than has the board which employs him.

From what has been said, therefore, it will be inferred that whether the school inspection work is conducted by persons in the employ of the local school committee or the board of health, it is not supervised in the great majority of the cities and towns in the commonwealth. This is a fact.

What is the reason for this lack of definite supervision of the work of school physicians? The answer, it would seem, is the same as applies to all health work: lack of sufficient interest and appreciation on the part of the public as to the benefits that come from work of this sort if well done, and, consequently, lack of money to standardize and put the work on a practical basis.

The lowest salary paid by the school committee today in any Massachusetts community for school physician's work is $25 per year; the highest, $800 per year. School physicians in the employ of boards of health, of course, receive higher salaries, since their duties comprise many of the duties of a local health official; but even then $500 is usually the limit, unless the general health duties predominate, in which case a physician may receive a salary of $900, $1,200, $1,500, or, rarely, more.

Admitting the facts as presented by persons in the work, what steps can and should be taken at once to strengthen the long-ordained attempts made to examine the children in the public schools, in the interest of the health of the entire community?

We know that too little money is provided for both school and community health work, and we have reason to believe that the public does not yet understand, and consequently, does not appreciate, the importance of preventive health work. A more generous appropriation should be furnished, particularly by the local communities through the efforts of able and influential citizens, who should be told explicitly, in a business-like manner, why more money is needed and how it is to be used.

In spite of the present limited appropriation, school and health officials are already obtaining much assistance from the public, some of which has been direct on the part of certain individuals, as, for example, physicians and others who are giving their time and efforts practically without financial compensation, and some indirect, through the representatives of the people in the legislature, by means of legislation.

The question naturally arises as to whether the best use is made of the assistance already given. Model work in any community deserves wide recognition and may be used as a standard, in which case a physician's work should be brought, has this been done?

Is there, for instance, at present any individual or board that could urge certain communities in the state the highest standard and method of school health work developed by other communities? To be able to accomplish a thing of this sort requires familiarity with local conditions through-out the commonwealth. This, in turn, requires men of experience in preventive medicine who have been thrown in contact with business and social interests in the local communities—men of good judgment and with broad interests, whose chief aim in life is to conserve the public health by preventing so far as possible, the spread of disease, and by pointing out all sorts of conditions and circumstances that are known to be prejudicial to health.

It is true that existing legislation may not be so complete as one might desire, but has all been done that could, to advantage, be done under such legislation as we have? If we analyze the situation carefully, and face squarely the facts of the case, I believe we are obliged to answer in the negative.

GIANT DREDGES BEGIN THE FINAL WORK OF COMPLETING PANAMA CANAL IN CULEBRA CUT

As soon as the Gamboa dike was blown up in the Panama canal the government dredges began the work of clearing out the channel. Powerful steam scoop and suction dredges were put to work. The cut was nearly filled with water for eight out of nine miles of its length before the destroyed dike let the water of Gatun lake into the cut. The Cucaracha slide made a barrier a mile from the Pacific end of the cut. This was partly removed by being dynamited, so that the water filled the entire cut. Dredges will also attack what is left of the slide. Over 2,000,000 cubic yards of earth must be taken out at the slide to clear the channel.

they accomplish today much in the way of preventing disease that cannot be definitely stated by the words of any written statute.

Into the hands of these men, therefore, whose duties already take them to the cities and towns, could be put the supervision of the medical school inspection of the state. Just as now they advise with the health officers and boards, investigate conditions and make recommendations, so they could advise with the state health officials, bringing to them definite experiences of similar communities with similar problems, incite that instinctive desire for high standards which comes so much more surely and vigorously by education than by legislation.

State advisory supervision of school

As this way, better than in any other, local interest and initiative is kept up, which is after all the great thing to be desired.

Now Massachusetts is particularly fortunate in having associated with the state board of health physicians, whose chief business is to assist the local health authorities, and to instruct and inform them, if necessary, on matters relating to the prevention of disease. They are, from the nature of their position, their training and experience, competent to do just that.

A BIG AUCTION SALE

J. F. CONANT & CO. SELL ASHLEY AND BAILEY COMPANY PROPERTY

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 15.—Yesterday at the first day's sale of the 10 manufacturing properties from New Jersey to North Carolina, of the Ashley and Bailey company, the "Paterson Properties" realized $123,000.

The assessed valuation of the same being $250,000. The purchaser of the first three lots was Melvin C. Pellier of 190 Williams street, New York city. The purchaser of lot four was the Sipp Machine Company of Paterson. For some reason unexplainable there was no bid upon the Hawthorne mill, although it is a good property free from encumbrance in a successful operation and pledged to absolute sale. Its assessed valuation is $16,500. The four Pennsylvania mills are to be sold on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Also by J. E. Conant and Co., of Lowell, Mass.

QUESTION ALL STRANGERS

SALISBURY, Oct. 15.—Early yesterday afternoon a stranger, with the appearance of having roughed it for some time entered the car barns of the Salisbury company, almost directly opposite the postoffice where the negro killed Constable Willie W. Heath last Thursday morning and sought shelter from the storm. With thoughts of the tragedy in their minds the men at work in the barn began playing him with questions as to where he had been and where he was going. State Officer William W. Hester at last questioned the man at length, allowed him to go, and the stranger started in the direction of New Hampshire.

Every stranger coming to town is carefully scrutinized and made to give an account of himself, although nobody believes the yegmen have hidden themselves here since the morning of the tragedy.
